An Unlucky Admiral.

Admiral Tegethoff, of Austria, was dismissed the service for sailing his vessels contrary to the Austrian rules of navigation, but the most lucky Admiral Tegethoff we know of is Admiral Semmes, who got off from Captain Winslow in an English yacht. The best things to get on are the ready-made garments at N. Gressmayer & Co.'s, No. 47 Fifth street. They go off very readily from the store, and on the persons of the customers.

How to Make Home a Paradise.

This desirable result may be obtained by purchasing one of Bissell & Co.'s new patent Double Oven Cooking Ranges, made expressly for burning bituminous coal. It is one of the most convenient, economical and efficient ranges ever offered to the public and scores of families in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and other localities, are now using them with the most complete satisfaction. The community have long wanted a superior bituminous coal burning Range, suitable for both Summer and Winter. Bissell's new Double Oven Range is strictly such a one. During the Summer, the consumption of fuel can be greatly economised, and during the winter it will burn less coal than any other range, and yet give out enough heat to warm three rooms comfortably. It will bake, boil, roast and heat water all at the same time. It will retain the fire longer than any other range, which adds to its convenience and economy. It embraces all the requisites essential to a perfect range. The public are respectfully requested to call at Bissell & Co.'s Stove Warehouse, No. 235 Liberty street, and examine this Range, as they will be convinced of its pre-eminent superiority. Remember the place—Bissell & Co., 235 Liberty street.

THE DREAM OF COLUMBUS.

Mr. John Brougham's "Columbus" must, no doubt, be regarded as a burlesqued representation of an historical character and certain incidents connected with the great discovery which has made his name immortal.

It requires a more than average quickness of perception—in point of fact, a certain æsthetic quality—to understand and thoroughly appreciate the subtle wit, with which the dialogue of a piece of this kind is as richly traversed, as is a splendid specimen of auriferous quartz with veins of gold.

A vulgar, stolid crowd may see through some of the more palpable jokes, and laugh consumedly at situations which are boldly humorous; but the crowd does not lay hold of the true meaning of the author, any more than the man, who, seeing Mr. Burton's marvellous realization of Dickens's "Captain Cuttle," concentrated his admiration in this memorable form of eulogy; "Ain't it funny, the way that sailor feller takes off his hat wid der hook?" To him that was the feature of one of the most perfect performances ever witnessed on the stage.

Audiences have to be educated up to a certain standard of musical knowledge before they can enjoy Italian opera; and they must study and store up all the half hidden suggestions that words convey, and be capable of instantly catching the electric spark that is produced by the collision of quaint or paradoxical ideas, before they can ever know the intellectual delight that really good burlesque affords.

In the strict sense of the term, there are parts of "Columbus" that almost take it out of the legitimate region of extravaganza. Mr. Brougham has interjected, here and there, passages of genuine poetry, in which sentiment and serious power carry the reader and listener to an elevation nearly approaching the heroic. These are, it must be admitted, a pleasing, though not entirely consistent, kind of ornamentation to the original structure, which the Genius of Fun put into the head of the author to exercise the resources of his craft upon. It is as if one should find, through some architectural freak, the grotesque altar of a Chinese idol sustained by beautifully moulded Caryatides.

Yet these passages, while not exactly in their proper place, we would, on no account, have eliminated or abridged. Indeed, it is to them that Mr. Brougham must appeal for a portion of his posthumous fame; for the puns, and other comic condiments with which his piece is spiced, can have but an ephemeral existence. Only stupid jests go down to posterity.

If the next generation revive the memory of this "Columbus," it will be on account of its poetry and not its politics. Passing allusions to current events will be stale in a year; but "the Vision" of the grand old navigator will pass into national collections and school readers, which shall be diligently consulted for a century. Even as we present it below—mingled with such interruptions from the king as are purposely intended to give a ridiculous turn to its inherent sublimity,—its merits cannot be concealed nor its sense perverted. Ferdinand of Arragon is supposed to have granted his consent to the fitting out of an expedition by the adventurous Genoese captain. So overcome is Columbus with joy, that, in the excess of it, he suddenly falls into a clairvoyant state, and takes the following prophetic glimpse into futurity:

Columbus—Time onward passes, and my mental gaze
Is on the future. Lo! I see a land,
Where Nature seems to frame, with practiced hand,
Her last, most wondrous work! Before me rise
Mountains of solid rock, that rift the skies;
Imperial vallies, with rich verdure crowned,
For leagues illimitable stretch around:
While through them, subject seas for rivers run,
From ice bound tracts to where the tropic sun
Breeds in the teeming ooze strange monstrous things!
I see, upswelling from exhaustless springs,
Great lakes appear, upon whose surface wide,
The banded navies of the world may ride:
I see tremendous cataracts emerge
From cloud aspiring heights, whose slippery verge
Tremendous ocean's momently roll o'er,
Assaulting with unmitigated roar
The stunned and shattered ear of trembling day,
That wounded, weeps in glistening tears of spray!
King—We grieve your sensibility to shock,
See something else or down will go our stock.
Columbus—I see upspringing from the fruitful breast
Of the beneficent and boundless West,
Uncounted acres of life giving grain,
Wave o'er the gently undulating plain,
So tall each blade that you can scarcely touch
The top!
King. Ah! now my blade, you see too much.
Columbus. Within the limits of the southern zone,
I see plantations, thickly overgrown
With a small shrub, in whose white flower lies
A revenue of millions!
King. You surprise
Us now. We'll cotton to that tree!
Go on, old fellow, what else do you see?
Columbus. Some withered weeds—
King. Pooh!
Columbus. From which men can evoke
Profit as wonderful!
King. From what?
Columbus. From smoke.
King. Ah, now you're in the clouds again. Good gracious!
Think of the stock, and don't be so fugacious.
Columbus. I see a river, through whose limpid stream,
Pactolus like, the yellow pebbles gleam;
Flowing through regions, where great heaps of gold,
Uncared for, lie in affluence untold
Thick as autumnal leaves, the precious store;
King. My eyes! why didn't you see that before?
We'll go ourself, we mean we shall "go in."
Go on.
Columbus— I see small villages begin,
Like twilight stars, to peep forth timidly,
Great distances apart; and now I see
Towns swoln to cities, burst upon the sight,
Thick as the crowded firmament at night;
I see brave science, with inspired soul,
Subdue the elements to its control;
On iron ways, through rock and mountain riven,
Impelling mighty freights, by vapor driven;
Or with electric nerves so interlace
The varied points of universal space—
Thought answers thought, though scores of miles between—
Time is outstripped—
King. We're not so jolly green.
My friend, come, ain't you getting rather steep?
We beg to probability you'll keep.
What see you now?
Columbus. The plethora of wealth
Corrupt and undermine the general health.
I see above the lands the war clouds lower;—
Pregnant with death—and madness rule the hour,
And now I see her unpolluted shield,
More brightly shine, in battle fires annealed,
And the vile taint that tarnished her great fame
Thrice purified in Freedom's sacred flame!

Other extracts, well deserving publication, might be made, but this, that we have selected, is the best and most important flight of poetic fancy that Mr. Brougham takes in the piece. To give it due effect, however, he, himself, must be heard recite it. There is not an elocutionary emphasis or cadence that would tend to increase the effect of its delivery, to which he has not completely toned his voice and manner.

THE CAPITAL.

Result of Tuesday's Elections.

The Susquehanna Nearly Ready for Service.

The Public Finances.

Estimated Revenue Present Fiscal Year, $650,000,000.

Public Debt Reduced in October $22,000,000.

The President "Calm as a Summer's Morning."

The Result of the Elections Confirm him in his Policy.

Proposed Reduction of the Tariff and Internal Taxes.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, November 7, 1866.

Tuesday's Elections.

The Richmond papers of to-day, do not contain sufficient returns to show how the elections of yesterday resulted, but they most all concur in expecting that the Conservative tickets would be defeated. The result in New York was not fully known here until to-day. Numerous private dispatches to the President last night seemed to leave no doubt but that Hoffman had been elected.

The Mexican Mission.

The Susquehanna is now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in readiness for her departure to Vera Cruz, with General Sherman and Minister Campbell. It is expected here that they will proceed direct to the City of Mexico, and there meet representatives of the Liberal Government. There does not appear to be any doubt entertained here but that Maximilian has completely abdicated the empire.

Postmaster at Cincinnati.

Colonel Taylor, who was appointed yesterday as Postmaster of Cincinnati, to-day personally received his commission. So great has been the scramble for this office that one day last week a commission had been made out for another man, but was overruled before it was sent out.

The Public Finances.

The state of the public finances engages much attention, and the forthcoming annual report from the Treasury upon the meeting of Congress is looked for with unusual interest.

Reduction of Tariff.

It is reported and believed that Mr. Welles, the Revenue Commissioner who has investigated the present system of taxation, will propose considerable reduction in the tariff, and also in the Internal taxes. It is well known that the revenue from these sources greatly exceeds the amount necessary for any economical administration of the Government, including the interest on the National debt, and an ample sum for a sinking fund. It is estimated that the revenue from all sources for the present fiscal year will be $650,000,000.

The White House.

The evening Administration paper here has the following: There was a very considerable attendance to-day at the White House. Many of those who sought interviews with the President were quite successful in securing that object. During the morning the Secretary of War had a protracted conference with the President. The Attorney General also had quite a long interview. The same paper adds: "The President is calm and quiet as a summer's morning. The result of the elections confirm him more strongly and determinedly in his patriotic purpose and policy."

Land Sales.

Returns received at the General Land Office, from the local land office at Brownsville, Mo., show that during September last, 12,822 acres of the public lands were disposed of, the greater portion for actual settlement.

Assistant Marshal.

Oliver P. Gooding, of Indiana, has been appointed Deputy Marshal of this district. His father is Marshal.

The Public Debt.

The decrease of the public debt in October is even greater than was anticipated, amounting to twenty-two millions of dollars.

WASHINGTON, November 8.

CIRCULAR FROM SECRETARY M'CULLOCH.

The following has just been issued, addressed to officers of Customs:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, November 3, 1866.

Congress at its last session having passed an act further to provide for the safety of the lives of passengers on board of vessels, approved July 24, 1866, the tenth section of which is as follows: "That all seagoing vessels carrying passengers and those navigating any of the Northern and Northwestern lakes, shall have the life boats required by law, provided with suitable boats and disengaging apparatus, so arranged as to allow such boats to be safely launched with their complement of passengers, while such vessels are under speed or otherwise, and so as to allow such disengaging apparatus to be operated by one person disengaging both ends of the boat simultaneously from the tackles, by which it may be lowered into the water." Your attention is called to the same, with the request that you will bring it to the notice of ship owners and others interested, and impress upon them the importance of complying with its provisions.

[Signed] H. MCCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

DONATION OF SEEDS.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has received from the Imperial Minister of Commerce at Vienna, Austria, through Mr. Loosey, the Austrian Consul General at New York, about one hundred varieties of cereal and vegetable seeds, collected from premium varieties shown at the great exhibition held at Vienna in June last, and presented by the Austrian Government for experiment on the experimental farm of the Agricultural Department of the United States. This donation, so kindly made by the Minister of Commerce, embraces nearly every variety of cereal and vegetable seeds in favor in our country, and it is hoped that some will prove valuable acquisitions to the agriculture of the United States. None of these seeds will be for distribution.

SECRETARY OF LEGATION TO MEXICO.

Edward Lee Plumb, Esq., to-day received his commission as Secretary of Legation to Mexico, and left here for New York to-night. This gentleman has for a number of years resided in that country, and is regarded as in all respects eminently qualified for that important station.

FROM THE OIL REGIONS.

Two New Wells Struck Yesterday.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
[By Merchants' National Telegraph Line.]
COAL CITY, November 7, 1866.

The Ogden Mining and Manufacturing Company have struck two new wells to-day. Their No. 4 well is pumping twenty-five barrels, No. 12 is pumping at the rate of one hundred barrels per day.

The Merchants' National Telegraph Company now have an office on their property. K.

BY FOREIGN MAILS.

Condition of the Empress Carlotta—The War in Candia, &c., &c.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The following additional foreign news was received by the Java:

TRIESTE, October 27.—The condition of the health of the Empress Carlotta, of Mexico, remains unchanged. Maximilian has telegraphed his approval of the course of treatment pursued by the physicians at Miramar. He says nothing in the dispatches of any intention being entertained on his part of leaving Mexico.

ALEXANDRIA, October 25.—News received here from Greek sources states that a great battle took place in Candia on the 17th inst., between the Cretans, who numbered 20,000, and and the combined Turkish and Egyptian troops, amounting to 30,000. The latter are stated to have been repulsed, and Ismael Pacha wounded.

DRESDEN, October 27.—Royal decrees have been issued to day, dissolving the provisional government. Herr Moseies has been appointed Minister of the Interior.

Fenian Trials Postponed—Application for New Trials.

TORONTO, November 7.—The Fenian trials will be laid over until to-morrow, on account of witnesses being absent to attend to the elections in the States.

Father McMahon, under sentence of death, has determined to appeal for a new trial. An application for a new trial will also be made in behalf of Col. Lynch.

The Mayor of Quebec has received a number of cable telegrams from England, empowering him to draw money for the relief of the sufferers by the fire.

From Montreal.

MONTREAL, C. E., November 7.—Mr. B. E. Devlin, an eminent lawyer, is here, having been requested by the United States government to defend the Fenian prisoners here, whose trial will commence in December next.

The imports for the last month in Montreal amount to over four million of dollars. A number of Ministers are here in Cabinet council to-day, previous to leaving for England.

Volunteers Disbanded.

CORNWALL, C. W., November 7.—The volunteers stationed here received orders to break up on Friday, and are to be struck off the rolls. The gunboat Royal, stationed here, leaves on Friday.

Rejoicings at Albany.

ALBANY, November 7.—The Republican Union General Committee are firing one hundred guns in honor of their victory in this city, and the re-election of Governor Fenton.

NEW YORK.

Gov. Fenton's Majority 6,000.

Congressional Delegation Unchanged.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
NEW YORK, November 7.

Fenton is elected by at least six thousand majority. Hoffman concedes Fenton's election. I. R. Y.

NEW YORK, November 7.—In New York twenty Republicans and eleven Democrats are elected to Congress, continuing the delegation in Congress as at present. The House of Assembly will have a large Republican majority, as the Senate elected last year already has.

The World admits the election of Fenton by 4,000 majority; the Times by 10,000; the Herald by from 3,000 to 5,000, and the Tribune by at least the majority given in 1864.

BUFFALO, November 7.—The entire Democratic ticket was elected here yesterday.

NEW YORK, November 7, 6 P. M.—The returns we have this evening continue to indicate the election of Fenton, by 10,000 majority. The Tribune's reckoning this evening is 7,422.

The Post's fourth edition from a careful collection of the returns from all parts of this State, estimates Fenton's majority at nearly 9,000.

Dutchess county, complete, gives Fenton 1,222 majority. Ulster county, complete, Hoffman's actual majority is 386. Carroll's majority is 608.

NEW YORK, Midnight, November 8.—The Albany Evening Journal figures up Fenton's majority at 10,000. Conkling's majority is 1,560. Robert's majority is 607.

MICHIGAN.

Entire Union Congressional Delegation Elected.

Large Union Gains.

DETROIT, MICH., November 7.—Michigan elects the entire Republican Congressional delegation. Beamen's majority in the First district is 4,201, a Republican gain on the vote of 1864 of 240. In the Second district Upson's majority is 6,850, a gain of 230. In the Third district Blaine's majority is 3,281, a gain of 607. In the Fourth district, as far as heard from, Ferry has 2,100 majority. In the Fifth district Trowbridge has 1,360 majority. In the Sixth district meagre returns give Driggs 2,000 majority.

The Republicans gain largely throughout the State. In Wayne county, which includes Detroit, they elect the Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney and Recorder, gain two State Senators and three Representatives. The Common Council stands ten Republicans, nine Democrats, and one working man—a Republican gain of four members.

NEW JERSEY.

Two Union Congressmen Gained.

NEWARK, N. J., November 7.—Hill, Republican, is elected to Congress by about 4,500 majority, and it is believed that Gov. Newell is re-elected in the Second District. The Congressional delegation will stand four Republicans to one Democrat a gain of two.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The Times says there were four Republicans and one Democratic Congressmen elected in New Jersey yesterday.

TRENTON, N. J., November 7.—Charles Haight, Democrat, is elected in the Second District by a majority of over 200. The Legislature in both branches is Republican.

DELAWARE.

Democratic Majority About 1,000.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7.—Returns from the election in Delaware have been received. Newcastle county gives 189 majority for Riddle. Kent gives 921 Democratic majority. Sussex county is not complete, but enough is known to fix the Democratic majority in the State at 1,000, a Democratic gain of 500.

The Bank of Upper Canada.

TORONTO, C. W., November 7.—In the case relating to the suspension of the Bank of Upper Canada, the sixty days' grace allowed by law for the resumption of specie payment, expires next week, when the affairs of the bank will probably be placed in the hands of assignees and wound up. Meantime, parties indebted to the bank have the privilege of settling their indebtedness in notes of the bank at par. After assignment this can no longer be done.

Arrival at Farther Point.

FARTHER POINT, November 7.—The schooner Damascus, from Liverpool on the 24th, via Londonderry on the 26th of October, has arrived off this point.

FROM MONONGAHELA CITY.

The New Methodist Episcopal Church—A Handsome Edifice—Its Architect and Builders—A Runaway.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.
MONONGAHELA CITY, November 1, 1866.

The Methodist Episcopal Church in the course of erection in this place, will be an honor to the community, and contribute much to the appearance and interest of our busy little city. It is in the ornamental Norman style, built of brick, with basement of cut stone. The length is one hundred and six feet, and width sixty-two feet. From the front, when entering at the center, or main door, you find yourself in the vestibule; passing through an arched doorway either to the right or left, you ascend the broad and massive stairway, which leads to the vestibule above; from this, three doors open into the sanctuary. This, the main hall of the building, has an arched ceiling of thirty-six feet in the clear, which, when finished by frescoing, will present a very fine appearance. The gallery over the vestibule and opening into the main hall, is to be reserved for the express use of the choir. The ladies belonging to this body intend raising the means for the purchase of a fine instrument, that will accord in appearance and tone with the building.

Passing along one of the broad aisles to the front, you find yourself in the area called the altar. The pulpit is in a recess built out from the main building, and enclosed by the desk in a semi-circle shape. From this, a private entrance for the use of the minister leads below into the study or library room. This room is also intended as a place for official meetings, and is provided with a fireplace, the only one in the building, as all other parts will be heated by hot air from a furnace in the cellar, being carried through the building by flues in the wall, so arranged that either one room or the whole building may be heated.

From the study you pass through an entry formed by two class rooms into the Sabbath School or lecture room. This being intended also for week day exercises, such as prayer meetings, lectures, &c., has an entrance from the outside in the shape of a large arched doorway, projecting from the building some two feet. This, with the large circular topped windows and ornamental brick work gives the side view a beautiful and tasteful appearance, almost equal to the front. From the lecture room an entry, formed also by two class rooms, leads into the lower front vestibule, designed to be used only as a convenience to the Sexton in passing through the building.

This fine edifice will be surmounted by a tower one hundred and eighty-two feet in height, containing a bell. When finished this will be the best building in the county, and I might say, the handsomest, outside the cities, in Western Pennsylvania. The architect is Hoxer, of Philadelphia; the brick work by Mr. Sol Merideth; carpenter and general superintendent, Wm. Coller, Esq., of this city.

With all due regard for the liberality of the congregation and friends of the church who have contributed to this praiseworthy object, too much cannot be said in commendation of Rev. E. Hingley, who has labored with a will, beat down difficulties which looked almost insurmountable, and with untiring zeal, let nothing stop his progress. Had it not been for his energy and perseverance the enterprise would have proved a signal failure.

On Saturday last, as Mr. John Ketchem was driving along the river road towards this place, his horse suddenly took fright, and becoming unmanageable, dashed with headlong speed towards a precipice. Within a few feet of the bank the buggy overturned, throwing Mr. Ketchem and a lady who was riding with him out. The horse and buggy went over, falling a distance of eighteen or twenty feet. Strange to say the occupants of the buggy, with the exception of a few scratches, were not injured. The buggy was made a complete wreck. The horse extricating himself from the broken buggy, stood calmly contemplating his work, apparently not much the worse of the frightful leap he had taken. CALEB.

The Roman Catholic Church in Austria.

A Vienna letter says: Here in Vienna the Catholic Church has succeeded in defeating an excellent project of the civic authorities. Seeing how deficient the schools are and how imperfect the instruction, it was wished to found a school for teachers—a "pedagoguim," as it was called—where, without reference to creed, young men should be prepared to become efficient schoolmasters. The Nuncio at once stepped in and put a stop to the plan. The clergy are resolved on no account whatever to lose the hold they have over the population by influencing the minds of the young. Any proposition for departing from the narrow prescribed paths is at once rejected by them. This step on their part has given rise to much irritation. That Government, too, should not have the courage to support an undertaking promising so much good, is looked on as a proof that nothing really good may be expected from it.

NATIONAL WOOL GROWERS' MEETING.—Judging from our exchanges and from conversation with wool growers, there can be no doubt but that the National Wool Growers' Meeting, to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 11th proximo, will be a brilliant success. It is understood by our best wool growers that the greatest talent in sheep husbandry of the country will be present.

SENATOR COWAN A LAW BREAKER.—A correspondent of the Greensburg Herald charges that Senator Edgar Cowan is a law breaker, inasmuch as he is practicing in the Supreme Court without having applied for and received a license to do so.

MOVEMENTS OF WOOL.—During the month of October there were received in this city 140,118 pounds of wool, and 78,930 pounds were shipped in the same time.—Cleveland Herald.

AN OIL LAND SWINDLE.

A Distinguished Haytien in Trouble—He Buys $300,000 Worth of Oil Lands with Fictitious Drafts, and now Languisheth in Prison.

A Haytien oil operator has been victimizing the property holders in West Virginia, and has finally come to grief. The Parkersburg Gazette tells the story as follows: "I swear upon the heads of my two children whom I love so dearly, I will not wrong you. Though I am false to all the world beside, yet will I be true to you." Such were the emphatic words pronounced in a very emphatic and semi-theatrical tone of voice by Pellitier the magnificent, whose gold headed cane was the envy of all the "Levee loafers." Antonio Pellitier the munificent, whose wealth scarce knew any bounds, who drew untold sums from sources east, west, north and south. Captain Antonio Pellitier the Benedict, who gave fifty thousand acres of land to the Church with an express proviso that said land should be given to and settled by "those poor and unfortunate devils yclept Church paupers or charity people. This gift of land is situated in some part of Virginia not yet explored, as no one has been able to find it as yet. Was this not a noble gift for a noble purpose, but alas, the magnificent, beneficent, heroic Captain Antonio Pellitier, turns out to be a peculating, swindling scoundrel without brains enough to carry out the magnificent "scheme" which a bolder and more scrupulous head had planned for him. But we will let our informant tell the tale his own way and the papers prove it "ow're true."

Capt. Antonio Pellitier came to this country to purchase the principal part of the oil district, representing he had a Haytian claim of $500,000 indorsed by Mr. Wm. H. Seward, he gave his printed memorials to every one he wished to purchase any property from. On the strength of his memorials and representations of immense wealth, consisting of 150,000 acres of land in Southwestern Virginia, a house and lot on the corner of 17th street and Fifth Avenue, in New York, heavy shipping interests for which he could give large "bottomy bonds."

He came to the oil regions of West Virginia, and purchased property to the amount of $300,000 and over, giving drafts for the same on Jay Cooke & Co., of Washington, accepted by Victor Vinrair & Co., of Montreal, C. E., none of which were ever paid. In this way he purchased all the interest of Camden, Jones & McDonoughy, the Wear & McFarland farm, the Keener farm, and Dr. Williamson's farm, representing fictitious interests as security. After his scheme fails, he audaciously returns and claims property for which he gave a worthless draft to Mr. Ludlow, of New York city, places said property on lease at Oil Rock, borrows money on said property, and threatens to arrest Mr. Ludlow for swindling him. But Mr. Ludlow took the initiative step, by arresting him, and sues for the face of the draft—$5,500—while the high-toned Pillitier "languisheth" in his prison cell, either to reform, or plan more deviltry. Probably the latter.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

Meeting of the County Superintendents of the State.

A meeting of the County Superintendents of Pennsylvania has been called by the State Superintendent, to be held in Harrisburg, at two o'clock on the afternoon of the 4th of December, to continue in session three days. Mr. Coburn, the late State Superintendent, assigned some time since a number of topics to different Superintendents, and requested written reports upon them. It is expected that these will be read, and that the subjects treated of will be discussed. In this connection the whole work of the County Superintendency can be reviewed, and the School Department will be able to give such instructions as seem to be called for. In addition to this, the new Superintendent will ask the Convention to resolve itself into a kind of Executive Session, at least every forenoon, for the purpose of enabling the School Department to learn the views of the Superintendents and of the people throughout the State on the following points, in which changes in the law or in the practical operation of it have been thought of:

1. The minimum length of time the Schools should be kept open.—Should it be increased to five or six months?
2. Uniformity of Text Books in Counties.—Should a provision be made in law for effecting such uniformity?
3. County Aid to Teachers' Institutes.—Should the law now in existence in eight counties be made general?
4. Provisional Certificates.—Should they be dispensed with? If not, what changes should be made in the policy now practiced in regard to granting them?
5. Renewing and Endorsing Certificates by County Superintendents.—Is it good policy to renew and indorse them?
6. District Superintendents.—Should there be a general law providing for their appointment?
7. District Institutes.—What can be done to increase their number?
8. Branches of study required by law.—Should additions or substitutes be made?

It is hoped that all Superintendents will come prepared to represent the wishes of their several counties in regard to these subjects, by voice, and if called upon, by vote.

A Wonderful Land With Stone Trees Six Hundred Feet Long.

In the Eastern Slope newspaper we find a report of many of the curiosities and the great riches of the Black Rock country, in the northwestern portion of California. The reports of the singular features of that section are of many years' standing, but are so marvelous that they have seldom obtained credence. Among the wonderful stories we have heard is one that there is a petrified tree there seven hundred feet in length! The present report in part confirms previous statements, and establishes the fact that Black Rock is one of the wonders of the Pacific coast, like the Yosemite, the Big Trees, the Geysers, etc. Besides the curiosities there appears to be an abundance of silver at Black Rock, but the ore is said to be of an unusual variety and very difficult to work; but it has been worked with very good results at the mills at Washoe. The quantity of ore is so great that it is said it will justify the erection of a thousand mills. A gentleman who visited the section, has exhibited to the editor of the Eastern Slope very many natural curiosities peculiar to the country, strange petrifactions from the ravines; curious waterworn pebbles from the mountain tops; knives, arrowheads and daggers manufactured by Indian skill from solid flint; a superior quality, apparently, of oil blacking, said to contain six hundred dollars in silver to the ton; pebble tin, with its curious fracture, that admits no change of form, and a thousand strange and new things. The editor says: He also tells us of many strange things that he saw but could not bring with him, and many stranger things he heard of but did not see. Among the latter list of wonders is a great basin that contains a petrified forest apparently floated there, many vast trees of solid stone, ranging from six to fifteen feet in diameter, and from three to six hundred feet in length. Doubtful as this tale may appear, shall we dare to dispute its correctness when we know this strange country has a boiling spring of fresh water, fifteen feet in diameter, that cannot be sounded, from which no drop of water ever runs; that in the same vicinity there is a flowing stream of cold and apparently good water, the drinking of which induces venereal disease, and that any water found by digging is as salt as salt can make it; that a half-dollar deposited in the soil is eaten up by the salt, and after thirty days no vestige of it can be found?

A WEST VIRGINIA ELOPEMENT.

A Cincinnatian Attempts to Carry Off a West Virginian's Faithless Wife and $2,000.

The Parkersburg Gazette, of Monday, says: On Monday, a man who was a Captain in the Federal army, by the name of Hare, and who has a wife and family living in Cincinnati, arrived in this city and put up at one of our hotels, with a woman, whom he represented as his wife. It seems that during the war, the gallant Captain was stationed at Buckhannon, in this State, and while there succeeded in ensnaring the hitherto seemingly virtuous wife of Mr. Wm. Martin, who is a hotel keeper in that place. After a time the Captain was ordered to other quarters, and was gone until after the close of the war, when he returned to B. and took up his abode with Mr. Martin. He was there some weeks, and then returned to Cincinnati. During his absence a correspondence was carried on between himself and Mrs. Martin, under the cover of a sister of hers. The matter went on slowly, until Mr. Martin missed $500 in money from his pocketbook! At that time no one suspected his wife of having stolen the money, and several other sums of smaller amount were missed at different times. The affair had been carried on to such an extent, that danger of discovery becoming imminent, the fair but frail and misguided woman, left her home on last Thursday on pretence of visiting some of her friends, living near Clarksburg. On arriving at that place she found the "gay Lothario" waiting for her, and together they entered the cars and arrived here Friday morning. On Saturday night, a brother of Mr. Martin, accompanied by Mr Rohrbrough, arrived here and arrested both the parties. Last night they were confined and on Sunday morning left this city under charge of a special officer, for Buckhannon, to answer the charge of stealing. The amount of money lost was very considerable, amounting to near $2,000.

Mr. Martin and his wife have been married some eight or nine years, and to all appearances, have lived happily, and this sad and disgraceful occurrence will be a sad blow to the erring woman's many relatives.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The wife of an ex-policeman named Jones was found dead at her residence in Forty-ninth street, near First avenue, New York, Tuesday morning, under circumstances that indicated that she had been murdered. Her husband, John Jones, was arrested and locked up for examination.

Vera Cruz dispatches, via Havana, confirm the report of Maximilian's sudden departure for Orizaba.

Havana advices of the 1st, state that Lorsundi's successor was expected daily. Lorsundi himself had determined to leave on the 15th instant, whether the new Captain General had arrived at that time or not.

The New York Times' Richmond special says: The further consideration of the Rothschild tobacco case is postponed until the 13th instant. Judge Lyons in the meantime reserves his decision upon the admissibility of the paper offered by the Government through Mr. Chandler, thus leaving the matter open for further argument at that time, should either party so desire.

The Herald's Washington special says: We have it on good authority that Secretary Stanton never has been requested to resign, but that he will continue in charge of the War Department. The report that he and the President have had a misunderstanding in relation to the new appointments in the regular army, is totally untrue. The President has fully concurred in Mr. Stanton's action in regard to them.

The New York Herald correspondent at Washington says: It is intimated here, upon good authority, that the President will, in his forthcoming message to Congress, lay before that body an amendment to the Constitution similar to the one passed at the last session of Congress, with a few modifications.

It is said the West requires the removal of Commissioner Rollins. The President has declared that a removal will occur, but he leaves the selection of a successor to Mr. Rollins in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary has already declared his preference, in case of a change, for William Spooner, of Ohio.

The Secretary of the Interior has received from the President of the Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad Company an affidavit, showing the completion of the second section of twenty miles of said road. The Government Commissioners will probably, within a few days, proceed to the lines of the road and examine the section.

An Oswego dispatch of yesterday says: The Northwestern Elevator, which was built on the west side of the river in 1865, by Irwin & Sloan, and the largest in the city, having a storage capacity of 350,000 bushels, was destroyed by fire last night. There was stored in it 150,000 bushels of grain, on which there is an insurance of $25,000. The Elevator was valued at $150,000 and is insured for $80,000. The loss falls principally upon Eastern companies. The fire was discovered in the cupola, and is supposed to have taken from a spark from a passing propeller. This fire will not interfere with the handling of grain at this port, as the storage capacity at present is about two millions of bushels.

A Tribune Washington special says: James Gaylor, the well known special agent of the Post Office Department, is here, at the head of a committee of special agents, for the purpose of revising the regulations and arrangements relative to registered letters. The agents have been in consultation with Postmaster General Randall nearly all day, and have nearly matured their plans, and they meet to-morrow in New York for a further consultation. The principal feature is to furnish all postmasters with large sized envelopes, printed in brilliant colors, and made so conspicuous from their size and appearance that they cannot be easily concealed or stolen by persons having charge of opening or closing the pouches. At present, registered letters do not differ much in appearance from ordinary letters, and can often be captured by a skillful thief without detection. The system of records and receipts now in use has been found useless. It is confidently expected that the new plan, when fully matured, will give much greater security to registered letters, and bring that important part of the mail service into more general use, and raise it, in the public estimation. The value of a good system of registry to business people cannot be over estimated. The proposed system will be a great improvement over that now in use.

POLITICAL.

D. W. Shryock, Esq., recently removed from the Assessorship of the Twenty-first District takes his removal very good naturedly, and now proposes to devote his entire time to the improvement of his paper, the Greensburg Herald.

The Democracy, through their press, scout the idea that there were gross frauds perpetrated by them in the late election in Pennsylvania. The Harrisburg Telegraph furnishes the following proof of fraud: "The ratio of votes in Pennsylvania is one to every five inhabitants. Nearly all the counties giving a majority for Gen. Geary voted under this ratio, while almost every county giving a majority for Clymer voted over, and many of them far over it. Lancaster, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia, with a population of 787,018, voted 10,305 votes less than a ratio of one in five inhabitants; while the rebel sympathizing counties of Bucks, Montgomery, Northampton, Lehigh, Berks, Schuylkill, Luzerne, Columbia, Northumberland, Clinton, Center, Clearfield, Mifflin, Cumberland and York, with a population of 779,114, voted nearly 20,000 over the ratio named. Luzerne county alone gave 3,080 votes over and no doubt fraudulently carried her county ticket and her member of Congress in that district. Montgomery gave 1,528 over and so elected her whole county ticket by fraud. Chester county gave 184 votes less than a ratio of one vote in the five of the population, while Montgomery gave 1,528 over. Such facts speak plainly for themselves, and we hope that they will be thoroughly investigated.

Miss Maggie Anderson, Postmistress at Beaver, Pa., having resigned her office, Miss Serinda McGaffick has been appointed in her place. The Beaver Argus says: "Miss Anderson has held the office since 1861, and has been an attentive, obliging and competent postmistress, and takes leave of the public, in an official capacity, with many friends. Miss McGaffick is a Republican in politics, a young lady of fine scholarly attainments, and will no doubt make a very efficient public servant. She is the second daughter of the late Wm. McGaffick, Esq., well known to most of our citizens."

Here is another specimen of the queer ruling of Democratic election officers. Thos. Whetstone offered to vote at the polls in Wayne township, Lawrence county, Pa., on the 9th ult., but was challenged on account of non-residence. Whetstone is a boatman, has no permanent residence, owns land in Ohio, was not assessed, and did not pay any tax in this State. But he had paid toll on the canal, and that he alleged was a State tax, while the Board (excepting one inspector) and a number of the big guns of the Democratic party argued the case very fluently that he had paid toll on a canal owned by a company, a portion of which was a State tax, and entitled the said Whetstone to vote. Bearing in mind that State tax is paid annually, and that a boatman pays toll every time he passes up and down the canal, this will be recognized as the "heftiest" construction of law heard of for many a day.

STATE ITEMS.

The wool growers of Westmoreland county will hold a meeting at the Court House, in Greensburg, on Monday evening next, for the purpose of forming an association.

Mr. John Ponten, a newspaper correspondent of the oil region, intends shortly to start a daily paper at Titusville. He has the material of the Corry Daily Review, a defunct newspaper.

J. Irving Graves, a peddler of "Patent Straw Cutters," was arrested in Greensburg last Friday night by officer Levi Cline, on an information made before Esquire R. W. Singer, by Jeremiah Cramer, of Cook township, Westmoreland county, charging the said Graves with the forgery of three judgment notes, calling for three hundred dollars each. Graves gave bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for his appearance at Court.

One day last week while men were engaged in threshing with a machine for Mr. Abner Evans, residing on the farm of Mr. John George, in Unity township, Westmoreland county, his little daughter, some fourteen years of age, came in contact with the "tumbling shaft," which caught her clothing and instantly she was taken up and made to revolve, dashing her head upon the floor. Before the machine could be stopped she was so mangled that she died on Friday.

Kelly, alias Wilson, charged with putting obstructions on the Oil Creek railroad, has been released from jail by a justice of Franklin, his wife having deposited one thousand dollars as bail for his appearance at Court to answer. This proceeding of the Justice has aroused the indignation of the community.

One of the objects of Gen. Geary's visit to Westmoreland county, when he was recently sojourning with his brother in-law, Col. Wm Logan, was recreation. He spent a few days in the quest of game, and then visited the friends of his boyhood throughout the county. He will return to Cumberland in a few days.

MISSOURI.

The Congressional Delegation.

Blair's Election to be Contested.

ST. LOUIS, November 7.—Nearly complete returns give the Radical ticket in this county about 3,000 majority. The official vote of the First District gives General Pyle 208 majority over Hogan. Returns from the interior are still meagre, but enough have been received to show that Newcomb, Radical, is elected in the Second District by about 3,500. Returns from the Third District favor the re-election of Noell, Conservative. Gravelly, Radical, in the Fourth District, will probably have three thousand majority. McClurg is re-elected from the Fifth District. The Sixth District is doubtful, but it is thought Vanhorn, Radical, is re-elected. General Loan, Radical, is re-elected in the Seventh District by a large majority. Not enough returns from the Eighth District are received to indicate the result. In the Ninth District, Swetzler, Conservative, is probably elected. Frank Blair's majority is reduced to six. His election will be contested by Branscomb.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

No Prospect of its Being Reopened—Attempt to Implicate the United States.

NEW YORK, November 7.—A recent Constantinople letter gives the following account of the Eastern question: There is now no prospect of reopening the Eastern question in general. There will be active interference in favor of the Christians in Candia, but it will be with the object of putting off the Eastern question, not opening it. England and France are agreed upon this point. Neither of these powers are ready for any general clearing out in Turkey. Both fear that Russia would gain what she lost by Turkey, and both are of opinion that Russia is strong enough now. If Lord Lyons had been removed to Paris, as was reported last week, it would have given color to the reports of the European press, especially as Moustier has just been called from Constantinople to be Minister of Foreign Affairs; but Moustier is really opposed to any revival of the Eastern question. This is so well known here that when he went to Athens, on his way to Paris, the mob would have torn him to pieces if they had dared to do so; as it was, they howled and hissed at him, cursed him and called him every uncomplimentary name known to the Greek and French vocabularies. Russia is doing what she can, both here and in Europe, to compel the great powers to take up the sick man's case, for she has everything to gain and nothing to lose in the settlement of this question. The Russian Embassador here is untiring in his efforts to stir up difficulties in European Turkey, to encourage Candiotes, and to force this question upon England and France. It is true also that Russian agents here and elsewhere are doing everything in their power to bring the United States into the question. All the stories about the United States Government desiring to purchase an island on the coast of Turkey, originated from this source, and our Government knows very well that one of the most desirable islands for a naval station is at our disposal whenever we choose to accept it as a free gift. People do not give away islands without an object, however, and in this case the object is to make the power of the United States felt in Greece and Turkey. The Turks are already alarmed about us, and are on the point of sending an embassy to the United States to cultivate friendly relations and head off Prussia; and, by the way, the announcement of this intention has caused great excitement in Greece, where it is proposed to send a Greek embassador to the United States at once to neutralize the effects of the Turkish embassy.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The seventh annual meeting of the American Church Missionary Society was held at noon today in the Church of the Ascension in this city. The attendance was large, about one hundred and fifty clergymen being present. Jay Cooke, Esq., the banker, presided.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC.

The Great Republic, the first vessel of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's new line to China, will be launched at Greenpoint probably to-morrow morning. The steamship is the largest and one of the finest ever built in the United States. She registers 4,000 tons, measures over 5,000 tons, and is unusually strong and symmetrical.

EPISCOPAL CLERICAL ASSOCIATION.

A large meeting of the Protestant Episcopal Clerical Association was held this morning in the Bible House in this city. The organization is comprised of ministers from all parts of the country.

ANOTHER PRIZE FIGHT.

A paper states that there is to be another great fight for the championship of the English prize ring, the combatants being Baldwin, called the Irish Giant, who recently fought for and won the belt, and a man who has been selected by Mace, the ex-champion, but whose name has not been allowed to transpire. It is, however, to be made known at least two months before the fight, which is appointed to take place in what is called London District on the fifth of April, 1867. The necessary articles of agreement have been entered into, and the stake at issue will be £200 a side and the championship of England.

THE JUMEL WILL CASE.

Which has occupied so much public attention for the past few months, was fairly started on its legal road this morning, before Judge Barnard, in the Supreme Court. This case is brought to set aside a will made by the late Madame Jumel. The testatrix bequeathed the bulk of her property to the various charitable societies, and made the defendant one of her residuary legatees, besides richly endowing his church and making him a handsome legacy. The plaintiff as heir at law of the deceased, claims that she was induced to make this will through fraud and by the undue influence of defendant. It is also claimed that the lady, owing to imbecility and dotage, was incapable of making a valid legal instrument. The array of counsel is one of the most powerful ever engaged in this city. The heir-at-law is represented by counsels Chas. O'Connor, ex-Judge Pierrepont, A. J. Vanderpool, Charles E. Whitehart, James C. Carter, Attorney B. F. Dunning. The validity of the will is maintained by counsel ex-Surrogate Bradford, E. W. Stoughton, H. T. Clinton, George Buckingham, Attorneys Martin and Smith. The Court being occupied in hearing excuses and arranging the jury panel, the case went over till to-morrow morning.

Trials at Toronto.

Another Prisoner Sentenced to Hung.

TORONTO, November 7.—The trial of Fenian prisoners was proceeded with, the usual crowd being in Court. K. McKenzie and J. Fleming appeared for the American Government. Mr. Thurston, the American Consul, was in attendance at the Court, looking after the interests of the prisoners, as he has been constantly since the beginning of the Fenian trials.

John Slevin was placed on trial. The prisoner, being very deaf, was allowed in the enclosure for counsel. He had no counsel specially retained. John Stockwell sworn:—Saw prisoner at Fort Erie, carrying a rifle with bayonet; he told me, that being very deaf and not knowing the watchword, he was afraid of being shot by Fenian pickets; left them and returned to Fort Erie.

Joseph Newbiggin, Wm. Miller and Lieutenant Miller testified that they saw the prisoner armed with a rifle.

For the defense John Hughes said he and prisoner came to Buffalo seeking work; were engaged to go to Fort Erie to work on the Erie and Niagara railroad; were taken prisoners by the Fenians.

Jane Smith, sworn—Keep a tavern at Fort Erie; prisoner stopped at the tavern on the 2d of May; next morning the Fenians surrounded the house.

Mr. McKenzie then addressed the jury. Hon. J. H. Cameron replied on behalf of the Crown.

The Judge having summed up, the jury retired and after a short absence brought in a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was then sentenced to be hung on the 13th of December.

A CHOLERA INCIDENT.

A Woman Supposed Dead Comes to Life and Demands Her Money of a Terrified Husband.

[From the St. Louis Times, October 9th.]

On one of the streets running parallel with Broadway lived a married couple who had not traveled together very smoothly since they had been made one flesh. The husband, though not a bad man, occasionally took a drop too much, and on such occasions happiness was the exception in the household. The wife had $1,000 in greenbacks, which she had saved, and always carried with her, and being the master-spirit of the firm, she would not allow it to be encroached upon; but, on the contrary, endeavored to augment it.

The wife took the cholera, and the husband, obtaining a permit, had her sent to the city hospital. It is not known that he accompanied her thither, though he must have visited her. One morning, the nurse being out of the room for some time, he returned to the bedside of the poor woman, and discovered her, to all appearances, dead. The doctor was notified and made his observation. No pulsation of the heart, no breathing, nothing to dissipate the illusion and assertion that the patient was dead was discovered, and the disciple of Esculapius pronounced her dead. She was forthwith disrobed, placed in the rough coffin furnished by the city, and conveyed to the dead house. For hours she lay, apparently a corpse, with all the surroundings of death.

After the shadows of night had closed in, the watchman took a look into the room to see that all was right. From the inside of one of the coffins a perceptible knocking was heard. Superstition seized him; he slammed the door after him, and went to notify other parties of the mysterious rapping, and several accompanied the man to the temporary receptacle of the dead. When the door was opened a sight met the gaze of the party which made the roots of their hair tingle and caused them to feel a weakness about the knees. The "corpse" had raised the lid of the coffin and was sitting bolt upright in it. "Where am I?" says she. The matter was explained to her briefly. Filled with anger, illness having seemingly departed, she let loose the floodgate of her passion at the idea of being inclosed in such a contemptible receptacle. She had $1,000 when she went to the hospital, she said, and she demanded to know where it had gone—that amount would have given her decent sepulture.

The attendants were unable to explain the whereabouts of the missing money, and the woman demanded to be restored to herself once more, that she might pursue the thief who had robbed her, and secure to her body, if she were to die, decent burial. The "resurrected" one was helped out of her narrow prison-house, and taken to a more genial chamber. But here another difficulty arose—her clothes had been destroyed. Suitable apparel, however, was furnished, and on finding herself once more of the flesh and blood, she insisted on starting at once in search of her husband, who, she thought—and, perhaps, correctly—was consoling himself with her $1,000, and the idea that some other daughter of Eve would console his lonely hours. The surgeon, observing that Madam was comparatively well, and thinking that it might do her more harm to retain her than permit her departure, had the iron gate opened for her exit. Darkness had set in ere she reached her husband's place of domiciliation. She knocked at the door, and her husband opened it.

With eyes fairly starting from their sockets, he gazed; words failed him; he was paralyzed with fear at the supposed apparition. At length the wife demanded why he had robbed her, insisting at the same time that she was no, dead, as he no doubt hoped she was, and she had come home—he would find it harder than that to get rid of her. The husband was too astonished, horrified, to believe his eyes, and he begged the "ghost" to leave; she might have the money, but for God's sake to go away and not destroy him. At this the man, with fear and trembling, handed her the missing money, which she took; but she was not to be driven from her home, and with a push she opened the door and entered the house. She had no sooner done so than her husband, minus coat and hat, rushed out of the back door into the yard, and over the fence, and that is the last that either his wife or his friends have seen of him.

A Frenchman's Opinion of America and Some of her Men.

The Pacific Railroad Excursion, which started some weeks ago, reached Chicago on the return trip at the close of last week. On Monday the citizens gave them a public welcome at the Crosby Opera House, when several speeches were made. Among the speakers was the Marquis of Chambrun, of France. He had viewed with much pleasure the tremendous development of this country, but he would say to his hearers that natural resources were not all that were essential to the success of a nation. The freedom of the people is to be depended on for our advancement and permanence as a people. Free speech, free schools, free churches, free administration are the doctrines on which are established forever the States west of the Missouri river as the States east of that have been alike founded on those principles. But beyond the institutions themselves lies the man. The man is what gives the power to the nation. [Great applause.]

When I read the discussions of Mr. Lincoln with Judge Douglas, I saw his comments upon the Declaration of Independence. I remembered this other great man, this old Virginian, the author of the Declaration of Independence. What Jefferson wrote, Lincoln commented upon. These principles of equality, of the liberty of mankind, were enunciated by Jefferson, but this great philosopher was commented upon and put in practice by your great statesman, Abraham Lincoln. [Renewed applause.] It was indeed one of the greatest fortunes of my life to approach this Western statesman—to see him on the very day of your decisive success. I saw him in the walls of Richmond. I saw him expressing by his words those two noblest feelings of mankind, which he expressed in the words amnesty and justice. [Applause.] Amnesty and justice were the last feelings he had when he died. [Applause.] As a foreigner let me tell you the fame of this dead Illinoisian cannot be confined to America. All the world must celebrate the memory of this pure statesman who raised himself through a life of freedom and put in practice these immortal principles for the safety of men; not only you, but all the civilized world must be proud forever of his name and his acts. I know well this same State of Illinois has another man who, as I have heard, went one day in 1861, presented himself at the office of Governor Yates and said that he was an old captain of your army, tried in the Mexican war, and was engaged to battle for his country to repay it for the education which he received of it. This man was modest. He did not speak of himself. He did not point back to his old successes in the Mexican war, and Governor Yates, almost guessing what was this man, appointed him Colonel of the Twenty-first regiment of this State. [Applause.] You know the history of this man, because the world and all the world knows it. He went from your State to Fort Henry. From Fort Henry he went to Donelson; from Donelson to Vicksburg; from Vicksburg to Charleston; from Charleston to Richmond, and this man, superior to his own successes themselves, modest in his triumphs, you must not be content to claim. Not only in the United States have you learned, but throughout the world we have learned to believe that even a successful General can be an instrument in the arm of a free people that he may not be an oppressor over them. [Applause.] It is for this that the development of your country is secured. You have wealth enough for the people of the world, and if you want more energy to develop it it will come at your call. You will go on much further than you have gone now; you will build up an empire which will have as its rival the Russian Empire.

As a Frenchman, I am glad of that; you know the connection which has existed between our two countries. In the days of your first trials France came with you and fought with you, (applause) and France, some years later abandoned to you the territory of Louisiana.

You are now freed from slavery. It is a time which connects us more intimately than ever. In my own country, we are proud of this feeling that all men are created free by God, and must remain free. The very day on which you applied this sublime maxim, that very day our two nations were connected more intimately. We are not jealous of your greatness. We will applaud you, for it is a most legitimate conquest which was ever made by any people, the conquest without any bloodshed, a conquest of this wilderness, which will give to a larger number of human beings the benefits of the Creator. [Lengthened applause.]

The chairman said he hoped they would remember that the gentleman who had just spoken was the lineal descendant of the Marquis de Lafayette. [Tremendous cheers.] The band then played "La Marseillaise."

GENERAL SHERMAN.—The Chicago Republican says it has assurance from private sources which it considers authoritative, that Lieutenant General Sherman has steadfastly refused to signify his approval of that line of action known as Mr. Johnson's "policy."

New Version.

A contemporary, speaking of the great Railway lines stretching from the seaboard toward the Rocky Mountains, remarks:

When we consider the vast distance to be overcome and the huge amount of capital required to keep these Western enterprises on foot, we are struck with wonder, and are not surprised at the words of the eccentric parodist who unrythmically sings or says:

The shades of night were falling fast,
As through an empire quickly passed
A party, who bore, 'midst snow and ice,
A banner with this strange device—
"Passengers for China this way."

Amid all the political commotion of the time it is encouraging to see how the resources of the great West are being developed, and that consideration makes us "bate not a jot of heart or hope" for the resplendent promise of the future of the Republic.

MORTALITY AT SAVANNAH.—From the 1st of January to the 29th of October, there died in Savannah 470 whites and 735 blacks. Of this number 64 whites and 149 blacks died of cholera. The Savannah papers state that the cholera has entirely disappeared from that city.

CITY MATTERS.

BOYS' CLOTHING.—Messrs. Gray & Logan, No. 47 St. Clair street, have now in store one of the the largest and most elegant assortments of boys', youths', and children's clothing to be found in the city. Their present stock comprises the seasonable and most fashionable goods, and as their prices are low, it will undoubtedly rapidly disappear from the shelves and drawers.

ALLEGHENY TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.—This organization held a spirited meeting on Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian (Rev. Elliott E. Swift's) church. The address of the evening was delivered by Mr. Clouse, of Manchester, on the subject of influence as applied to Temperance. His remarks were listened to with marked attention by the large audience present. Some more well-timed remarks were made by the President, after which the pledge was circulated, and a goodly number of signatures obtained. The League holds meetings every alternate Tuesday evenings, and the friends of Temperance are cordially invited to attend and take part in the proceedings.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Prior to the recent State election a wager for a supper on the result, was made between Messrs. Thomas Scandrett and S. B. McLaughlin, Esqs., the former an ardent Republican and the latter an active Democrat. Mr. McLaughlin was the losing party, and last evening he cancelled his obligation by giving an elegant entertainment at Mr. Simpson's saloon, corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets. About twenty-five guests sat down to the table, and after doing ample justice to the viands, the cloth was removed, and an organization effected by calling Mr. McLaughlin to the chair. Toasts were drank and responded to by Messrs. John Atwell, Reese Thomas, Captain James McGill, John Heato, and others. The entertainment was a complete success, and the pleasures of the occasion were heightened by the fact that politics were interdicted—both parties being equally represented. The most cordial feelings prevailed, and the company separated at an early hour.

Shocking Accident—A Girl Terribly Burned.

About eleven o'clock on Tuesday night, a most distressing accident occurred at the boarding house of Mrs. Davis, No. 76 First street, caused by the explosion of a lamp filled with carbon oil. Mrs. Davis and her daughter Jennie, aged sixteen years, it appears, were closing up the house, preparatory to retiring. Jennie went into the dining room for the purpose of extinguishing the lamp, which was fixed on a nail on the side of the wall. As she was in the act of turning the wick down, the lamp suddenly exploded, the burning fluid completely covering the unfortunate girl, and in a moment she was enveloped in flames. Her screams attracted the attention of her mother, who was in the adjoining room, and several boarders, who immediately ran to her rescue. After much difficulty the flames were extinguished by water, not, however, until the girl was shockingly burned. Her clothing was almost entirely destroyed, and her body, face and neck in some places almost burned to a crisp. Drs. Coffey and King were immediately sent for, who did everything in their power to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate girl. She remained conscious during the night, but became insensible yesterday morning, and her physicians think it impossible for her to survive but a short time.

Presentation to the Rev. Dr. I. C. Pershing.

On last Monday evening, the 5th instant, an unexpected compliment was paid to the Rev. Dr. I. C. Pershing, and his estimable lady, by the faculty and boarding pupils of the Pittsburgh Female College. It is now several years since Dr. Pershing assumed the Presidency of this educational institution, and to him, perhaps, more than to any other one person, is the credit due for its present pre-eminence. The Fall term, which commenced on the 5th day of September, brought to this college a new class of pupils who have already become greatly attached to Doctor and Mrs. Pershing, not only for the reason that they have so soon given the highest practical assurances of the deep interest they feel in the education of the young ladies committed to their care, but on account of their excellent social and christian qualities which have endeared them to their pupils and the faculty of the College. Last Monday being Dr. Pershing's birthday it was arranged by the pupils and faculty to treat him and his family to an agreeable surprise, and at the same time to give them a substantial token of the respect and admiration entertained for them. Accordingly, on the eventful evening in question, while Dr. and Mrs. Pershing were supping with the pupils, the door of the tea room opened, and a member of the Faculty, Mr. George P. Clarke, A. M., Professor of Ancient Languages and Natural Sciences, entered the apartment bearing in his hands a huge silver salver, upon which rested a magnificent silver tureen, with a heavy ornamented lid, and ladle, and also two elegant gold lined goblets, and a unique syrup pitcher made of the same metallic substance. Prof. Clarke at once proceeded to the head of the table, where the surprised Doctor and his lady were seated, and in brief but chaste and appropriate words presented the costly service of silver to them. Dr. Pershing was totally unprepared for this handsome mark of esteem, and for a moment hesitated to reply. But in language which revealed how fully he appreciated the regards of the donors, and the valuable and costly gift they presented to himself and Mrs. Pershing, the token was accepted and the balance of the evening was passed in the most delightful manner. The tureen bears the following inscription: "Presented to Dr. and Mrs. Pershing, from the Faculty and Boarding pupils, Pittsburgh Female College, 1866."

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—The purchase of a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, Price $60 and upwards. Salesroom 27th Fifth street.

Court Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA.—This Court opened yesterday morning at the usual hour, all the judges on the bench, when the following cases were argued:

Meek et al. vs. Bayard; Gray vs. School District, and Deboth vs. same; Greene county. Argued by Purman for plaintiff in error, and Black, contra.

Commonwealth vs. Rogers; Fayette county. Argued by Kain for plaintiff in error, and Veech, contra.

Beeson vs. Miller et al.; Fayette county. Submitted by Ewing for plaintiff in error, and E. A. Wilson, contra.

Stevens's appeal; Jefferson county. Continued for submission at Philadelphia on the paper books.

Lantz and Stephens's appeal; Greene county. To be submitted at Philadelphia on paper books.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

In the case of John Caw vs. the owners of the steamer Cosgrave, reported yesterday, the jury failed to agree and was discharged.

H. T. Price vs. H. K. Kane & Co. This was an action to recover the value of an oil tank constructed by the plaintiff for the defendants. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $215.

The District Court was not in session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Williams.

Police Items.

BEFORE ALDERMAN STRAIN.—John Martin complained yesterday before this magistrate against Samuel Hines, for malicious mischief. Hines is the driver of a car on the Birmingham Passenger Railway, and is charged with having driven his car against a horse, belonging to the prosecutor, while passing through South Pittsburgh, injuring the animal very badly. The accused was arrested and held in five hundred dollars bail for a hearing. Henry Ward was charged with committing an assault and battery on James Gallagher, by knocking him down and otherwise abusing him. The alleged assault occurred in Allegheny. Ward was held for a hearing. Catherine Dougherty made oath charging Chris. Dennis with surety of the peace, in threatening to do her bodily injury. Dennis gave bail for a hearing. They live in the Eighth Ward. Julia Morgan charged Hugh Lynch, an ex-member of the Allegheny police force, with surety of the peace, alleging that he entered her house with a forged warrant for her arrest, and threatened to throw her down stairs. A warrant was issued.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—Jeremiah Driscoll was charged before Alderman E. S. Morrow, of the Eighth Ward, yesterday, with malicious mischief, on oath of James McPherson, proprietor of a livery stable on Ross street. The prosecutor alleges that he hired a buggy to Driscoll, who drove around though Temperanceville, and returned it in a dilapidated condition refusing to pay for the damage. A warrant was issued.

BEFORE ALDERMAN TAYLOR.—Peter Zimmerman, proprietor of Iron City Park, made information yesterday against James Kearns and five other boys, for forcible entry and trespass, alleging that they frequently entered the Park, although forbidden, and damaged things generally. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the offenders.

BEFORE ALDERMAN LINDSAY.—James Donnelly, keeper of a huckster stand in the Allegheny market, was before Alderman L. R. Lindsay, of the Third ward, Allegheny, yesterday, charged with deserting his wife and children. A hearing was had in the case, which resulted in his being held in $500 bail to answer at Court.

BEFORE ALDERMAN DONALDSON.—William Smith lodged complaint before this Alderman yesterday, against John Marshall, charging him with the larceny of a cable from the towboat Wild Duck, now lying at the wharf. He was held to bail in the sum of $300 for trial, in default of which he was committed to jail.

BEFORE BURGESS BARKER.—Timothy O'Connor made two informations yesterday before Burgess Wm. H. Barker, of South Pittsburgh, charging Thomas Scanlon with assault and battery, and breach of the peace. The affair occurred on the Brownsville road. In default of the necessary bail in each case, Scanlon was committed to jail for a hearing on Friday.

BEFORE JUSTICE AMMON.—Christ. Koenig appeared yesterday before Justice A. Ammon, of East Birmingham, and made two informations against George Werney for assault and battery and surety of the peace. Werney was charged with having struck Koenig a violent blow on the head, and then threatened to kill him. Both parties live at Mansfield, in this county. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Interesting Railway Excursion by the Pittsburgh Female College Pupils.

On Friday, the 19th day of October, the pupils of the Pittsburgh Female College, (Rev. Dr. I. C. Pershing, President), were provided with a delightful and entertaining excursion to Altoona. A special car was engaged for the occasion and attached to the Cincinnati express train, which left the Union Railway Depot at eleven o'clock, and under the direction of Conductor Alexander, of the Pennsylvania Railway Company. The day proved to be a charming one, and afforded the young excursionists, who were highly pleased with their journey across the Allegheny mountains, a splendid view of country from the region of the "horse shoe," on the eastern slope of that extensive range. Altoona was reached at three o'clock in the afternoon, and the young ladies were at once escorted to the Logan House, and the enterprising proprietors, Messrs. Miller & Son, devoted themselves assiduously to the entertainment of their guests. After a short rest the excursionists divided the time in visiting the different sections of the borough, which is one of the busiest and most thrifty spots in Pennsylvania, and then returned to the Logan House for supper, which was served in truly creditable style. After the repast the young ladies adjourned to the parlor, where music and mirth ruled the hour until the moment for departure arrived. With many expressions of gratification at the polite attentions and hospitable entertainment of the proprietors of the Logan House, the excursionists returned to the car, accompanied by Conductor Alexander, and reached the Union depot in Pittsburgh shortly after two o'clock, a. m., on the next (Saturday) morning. The trip was one of the most delightful that can be imagined. Conductor Alexander devoted every moment of his time, not required by the onerous and important duties of his responsible position, to the fair young excursionists, and greatly enhanced the agreeableness of their journey by his courteous and gentlemanly attentions. We believe that this is the second excursion that the President of the Pittsburgh Female College has given to his pupils, and it was by far the most pleasant. The College is now in its twelfth year, and enjoys a reputation second to no other female educational institute in the United States. The pupils attending the present (Fall) term are the most intelligent and studious young ladies that were ever admitted to the College, and their progress has been so complete in detail, and so much in advance of what was anticipated, that we feel no embarrassment in saying the examination, at the close of the present term, next month, will exceed any that has hitherto taken place, and the friends of the College will, no doubt, feel constrained to increase the "centenary offering" to this highly successful school for young ladies.

West Pennsylvania Railroad.

This new institution has started operations in the most satisfactory manner, to meet the wants of the traveling public. Less than three weeks have elapsed since the people along the north shore of the Allegheny River had no knowledge of railroad facilities, and already the accommodation trains run full to overflowing.

Trains leave Allegheny at 6:30, 8:40, 11:30, A. M.; 4:00 and 6:30, P. M.; arriving at same station at 6:20, 8:20, 10:20, A. M.; 1:20 and 6.20, P. M.—Altoona time. This is the true plan to make the business. No railroad that ever was built failed to reap the benefit of giving the public all the facilities asked for.

One more important point—important in every branch of business, but not always to be found—a matter so well provided for on this road, that we mean to notice it particularly. The officers of the Accommodation train running to Sharpsburg and back, are just as kind and polite as if each was conducting his own private business, with the passengers. This feature the people soon learn to appreciate, and it has in this instance so impressed us that we here give the names of these worthy railroad gentlemen: Conductor, Mr. J. A. McDowell; Baggage Master, Mr. H. W. Behrhorst; Brakeman, Mr. J. Free; Engineer, Mr. J. Emery; Fireman, Mr. Jacob Hile.

On Monday the trains will extend the regular trips through to Freeport.

THE PIANO FOR THE TIMES.—In these days of high prices some persons have to deprive themselves of the luxuries of life, and a piano is generally put in that class, though it seems to be an absolute necessity now in every household. The great expense has deterred many from buying a piano who really need one. The piano for the times has made its appearance in the "Emerson Piano," which is, in a few words, a first-class instrument at prices as low as before the war. The best way to judge of these pianos is to see and hear them yourselves, and that can be done by calling at Mellor & Co.'s, the sole agents in this city for the "Emersons." They receive a new supply every week, so you are always sure of finding there the very latest instruments. Warerooms, 81 Wood street.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH THEATER.—The extravaganza of "Columbus" will be given again this evening, and we may remark that it can now be seen with almost unalloyed satisfaction. No longer is the dialogue massacred, nor does the scenery obstinately refuse to work. Harmony of action marks the relations to each other of the representatives of the various States, and even the comely and accomplished young person, who is supposed to incarnate New York, has not had the slightest difference of opinion with any of her reconstructed sisters on the subject of Fenton's re-election. We have, moreover, been given to understand that South Carolina—a rather quick-tempered brunette—has confessed to a delicate state of health, and stated that, unless some means be devised to keep off the currents of air which traverse the stage, she shall vote to amend her constitution. "Lady Audley's Secret" is played after the burlesque, and Mr. Cogswell is specially excellent in the part of "Robert Audley."

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. W. M. Ward is one of the most conscientious, painstaking and meritorious actors we have had in Pittsburgh for a long time. He has, too, while officiating as stage manager, done much to add to the general completeness of the performances at the Opera House. The state of his health compels him to relinquish the irksome duties of that position, and, in acknowledgement of his able services, he receives, this evening, the compliment of a special benefit. The programme he provides is unusually attractive. The comedietta of "The Artist's Wife" will be presented, and, for the last time, we shall have an opportunity of realizing how Mr. Hess has labored to elevate dramatic taste, by the liberal and really splendid manner in which he introduced "The Three Guardsmen" to the public. To-morrow "The Romance of a Poor Young Man," is to be brought out.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS.—If this were not the last week of "The Arabian Nights Entertainment," at Masonic Hall, we should have a notice about the exhibition there stereotyped. It is the same old story. Every seat is invariably filled, and no end of fun is caused by the distribution of the inexhaustible store of gifts. There will be another matinee on Saturday afternoon, for the special delectation of ladies and children.

AIMS'S VARIETIES.—It must be profitable, or Manager Aims would not be the man to risk it. We mean the engagement of such an array of varied talent as he has secured, and is constantly adding to and changing. He thoroughly understands this branch of the amusement business, and if he cannot please the public taste, nobody can.

FRIDAY EVENING NEXT—Farewell benefit to Manager Smythe at Trimble's Varieties.

A NEW LAMP BURNER.—James Blackmore, 134 Water street, has for sale a complete contrivance, very simple and effective, for burning carbon oil without using a glass chimney. This object has been regarded as the great desideratum ever since carbon oil began to be largely used, and many inventions have been made to effect it. At last it is accomplished, and we have in the burner sold at above place, a complete affair, operating simply, without smoke, and furnishing a jet of light equal to that given by an ordinary coal gas burner.

A SURE PILE CURE.—Dr. Gilbert's Pile instrument positively cures the worst cases of Piles. Sent by mail on receipt of $4. Circulars free. Sold by Druggists. Agent wanted everywhere. Address J. B. Romaine, Manager, No. 575 Broadway, New York. †

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1866.

THE GRAND RESULT.

The elections of Tuesday have ratified the verdict of condemnation which those of November rendered against the President on the issue he raised with Congress.

NEW YORK has re-elected FENTON by a majority which, though not large, is decisive—and this, too, in the face of the most deliberate and monstrous frauds in the city and vicinity. The next Congressional delegation from that State will stand as now—twenty-one Republicans to ten Democrats. The Empire State—of which the President had so many hopes—stands as she stood before—firmly against him and in favor of Congress.

The great NORTH-WEST the home of Radicalism not less than New England, has spoken as she alone can speak—MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, ILLINOIS, and MINNESOTA, have denied to Mr. JOHNSON even so much as the smallest crumb of consolation. In the States named all but three of the Representatives are Republican now,—although returns are not complete, we are gratified in saying the number will not be less in the next Congress.

MASSACHUSETTS has nearly extinguished the Democratic party in that State, and by an aggregate majority almost too large to count, pronounced for Congress. Her delegation will remain unanimous.

NEW JERSEY, hitherto the left wing of the rebellion, has wheeled into line, and given the Republicans a gain of two members of Congress. Her condemnation—under the circumstances—is most emphatic, and so Mr. JOHNSON even must regard it.

IN MISSOURI—where as in Maryland, the rebellious element since the war closed has swarmed and spawned at a fearful rate, it is barely possible Johnsonism has gained a member or two. But little consolation will there be in that.

KANSAS, it is not to be doubted, is true, with her single member opposed to the President—and so, too, of NEVADA, in all probability.

In MARYLAND—where the rebellious feeling is as ripe as ever—Johnsonism has gained ten members—a result when rightly viewed, that is more condemnatory of "My Policy" than any other would be.

DELAWARE has simply clung to the idol she has never forsaken. It would be almost a cruelty to take her from Mr. JOHNSON. Her single member in the next, as in the present Congress, will be on the side of the lost cause.

—So, of ninety-one Representatives elected on Tuesday, Johnsonism, we conclude, has twenty-four or twenty-five at the largest—a possible gain of three; a gain balanced by the Republican gain in Pennsylvania alone in October.

Who would have it stand better? How could it be worse for a President who appealed to the people to pass upon his official conduct?

A MANUFACTURED MAJORITY.

New York is not, strictly speaking, a Manufacturing City. It is rather what would be called—if it ever came in one lot under the auctioneer's hammer—a "Commercial Emporium." Yet there is one branch of manufacture in which it is without a rival through the world. Manchester may boast of its cottons; Birmingham of its hardware; Cincinnati of its pork, and St. Louis of its whisky; but there is one article in which New York can distance them, and give them any amount of advantage they desire to start with. We refer to Votes.

The stock on hand is always pretty large; but, when this exhibits any sign of not coming up to the point of probable demand, certain political mills are immediately set in motion, and a sufficient supply is speedily spun out to meet the emergency. Various are the processes employed and singularly select are the managers in the choice of operatives and material. The principal mill is situated in an upper apartment of the building, which so appropriately brings in immediate proximity a bar-room and the headquarters of the Democratic party. Need we say we speak of Tammany Hall? There resort certain experienced hands, who have passed a lifetime at the business, and who possess a peculiar faculty for manipulating the Irish and German staples, no matter how raw and crude is their condition. The coarsest kind of stuffs are, by a speedy and effectual process, marked with the American stamp, and, when put up with bundles of native goods, readily pass muster in a crowd.

But the kind of "mill" machinery, whereon these enterprising merchants in human consciences and patriotic principle most rely, is that whose motive power is concentrated in the flexors and extensors of muscular and practiced arms. The jolly "millers" employed in this department have usually learned their trade through great tribulation and amid many perils. Most of them can show outward and visible signs of the dangers they passed through during their term of apprenticeship. Their noses are of irregular outline; scars frequently adorn the lip where it has been separated by a strong and scientific blow; patches of hairless skin upon the head indicate the spots that have come in contact with clubs. This valuable class of workmen are chiefly employed in what may be called the "multiplying" branch. They are given one vote as a pattern, and from this they are expected to produce from ten to twenty other votes. It is not well for outsiders to venture into their part of the manufactory unattended by one of the managers. The motive power they use is not always under perfect control, and hundreds of instances have occurred of strangers being severely hurt by it.

To drop metaphor, we would say, that there probably never was a city on the face of the earth, where the ballot box is so universally and in so wholesale a manner desecrated as in New York; and that never, even in its history of shameless political manœuvering, have there been such frauds perpetrated as there were on Tuesday. In no other way is it possible to account for the unprecedented proportions of the total poll. The Republican vote is in a fair ratio to the natural increase of population; but there are at least ten thousand Democratic votes for which there is no corresponding increase—either by emigration from Europe and the South, by attainment of legal age, or by change in men's opinions—which can be shown. There was high-handed outrage and crafty cheating enough employed to give McCLELLAN his thirty-seven thousand majority—and that was a Presidential contest; yet now, when the Governorship is the highest office for the people to bestow, HOFFMAN gets his forty-seven thousand. So palpable a swindle was probably never accomplished before, and we doubt if the Legislature of the State will not, this winter, pass some law to prevent—at any rate partially—its repetition in the future.

MARYLAND.

This is a State lost. But we know how it came about. Since the war closed, the beaten rebels have swarmed into that State, more especially into the city of Baltimore, in thousands. Failing in the attempt to obtain possession of the election machinery, they resorted to wholesale perjury. Intent only, if possible, on redeeming the lost cause, they hesitated at nothing; but, as at Ball's Bluff and Fort Pillow, adopted means and went to extremes which only would subserve the ends in view.

In this way the State of Maryland has been wrested from the Republicans. The loss of the Legislature places it against the Amendment—unless there be a change of front on that question—loses two Representatives and a United States Senator, and insures adverse legislation for some time to come. It is one of those reverses which illustrate the similarity of the issue between the military and civil contest. As the one triumphed all the more grandly through reverses, so will the other spread wider and penetrate deeper as the result of the new resolution which its supporters will take.

TAMPERING WITH WEBSTER.—Certain reconstructed explorers among the etymologic treasures of WEBSTER'S Dictionary have made a frightful discovery. To their horror and dismay, copies of the latest edition have penetrated the obscurity of several editorial sanctums, where, indeed, they were much wanted—and have created more consternation than if they had been so many eight-inch shells. The outraged journalists declare the work "has been foully tampered with," and that it is now "Radical." The following proof is instanced:

> "Webster's Dictionary, up to 1860, (unabridged,) defined a State to be (quoting Blackstone) 'a political body governed by representatives—a commonwealth—as the States of Greece and the States of America,' and says in the same place; 'Municipal law is a rule of conduct prescribed by the supreme power in a State.' (Ed. of 1860.) Now see the Puritanical definition of the mutilators of the great American lexicographer: 'State—No. 8. A political body, or body politic; the whole body of a people united under one Government, whatever may be the form of that Government.'"

This book—or its use in the neighborhood of schools, at least—ought to be at once suppressed by Committees of reliable Southern gentlemen, or there is no telling but the youth of South Carolina and Virginia may grow up under the impression that they do belong to a nation, after all.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE UNION.

Our ears were familiar, some time ago, with the expression, "The Constitution as it is and the Union as it was." This was the rally-call of a party, and was deemed to exhibit the very essence of conservatism in a distilled and concentrated form, although it did not then bear that name. It meant that there should be no amendment of the Constitution, especially on the subject of slavery, and that the Union should be, on the suppression of the rebellion, (if it should be suppressed,) no interference with the institution, and no modification of the organic law respecting slave representation.

This was judged by the great majority of the loyal people a proposition too monstrous and full of danger to be for a moment tolerated. And the expression in which it was couched gradually fell into disuse. But upon the suppression of the rebellion, the sentiment itself was found to be held in its full import by its old friends, and that the late rebels were in full accord with them upon this point. Conservatism has this as its radical idea. It opposes the Constitutional Amendment, in entire sympathy with the late rebels, on this very ground, that it does modify the old anomaly and iniquity of slave-representation, so as to restore to the States North a right of equality in the Government, of which an unfortunate compromise of early times deprived them.

The opposition raised against this just and necessary amendment—just in itself, and necessary to conform the organic law to the will of the people, and to the altered condition of the country—furnishes the most lucid and emphatic explanation of what Conservatives and Southern politicians mean by their loud outcries in behalf of the Constitution. It means the Constitution as it was when the war began, the Constitution that gave to the Southern States twenty members of Congress and twenty votes in Presidential elections merely on slave representation. This is the meaning of the Constitution in the President's speeches, and this is the article, we presume, that he distributed from the platform, all along his electioneering tour through the country.

If the party opposed to the pending amendment could have its way, which happily it cannot, the amendment already made would be either annulled or evaded. Some of the Southern States that ratified it, did so with explanations and conditions, of no force it is true, but doubtless meant to be made of force, if they should gain the power to avail themselves of them. One State, at least, prefaced the ratification with a "whereas, slavery has been abolished by the armed force of the United States." And Mr. FORSYTH, of Georgia, declared the whole process to be "a form and farce of Constitutional Amendment."

The Union people have proceeded in their action honestly and sincerely. The Amendment made already they adopted in good faith. The pending Amendment is but a logical and necessary sequence of the other. As such they favor and insist upon it. As such, the Conservative party North and South oppose it. It will place the Constitution in its proper position as the law of the land, to which all other laws must conform. It will place all the citizens of the United States, for the first time in their history, on the proper ground of just equality, in the administration of the General Government; a man counting as much in the case, in Pennsylvania, as in South Carolina, and no more.

Under such a Constitution, we shall have a Union deserving of the name—a Union of free men, a Union of interests, and a Union of destiny.

HOW IT LOOKS.

The grand encounter being over, and the general results having been announced from all parts of the field, we "feel to improve the occasion" by some practical remarks.

And first, we see here the difference between light and darkness. A short time since, a Southern sage, noted for the sweetness that rue and boneset have imparted to his temper, turned his eye towards the States that have the good fortune to stand low in his estimation. Its vulture glance, as it swept the whole Northern horizon, encountered nothing but dark, portentous clouds big with latent thunders and forked lightnings, save and except the one small point where two-fisted JOHN MORRISSEY had taken his position, amid the WOODSES and BROOKSES and other Tammany ruralities. New York city, as we have already announced to our readers, has gone for JOHN MORRISSEY and the Democrats, as was befitting to their distinguished candidate, by a smashing majority at the first "round." The city that boasts Five Points for its hub has had a triumph. But the more intelligent counties of the Empire State have had theirs, too, in large and increased Republican majorities. In the city, the only luminous locality to blear-eyed sectionalism, the Union men strove manfully for the honor of the country, but the aggregation of all sorts of dubious materials thrown in from the four quarters of the globe and the South to boot, was too much for them.

New England and the glorious West have vindicated their fame, and demonstrated their relationship to each other and their joint participation in the benefits of an American education in American schools. They have given new proofs of devotion to the Union, and of their appreciation of free elections and a free Congress. Thousands and tens of thousands are figures that numerate their majorities for the Union and freedom. New Jersey takes, among the old States, her stand decidedly on the same side, as Kansas does, among the new.

In Maryland, the returned rebels have been more successful than they were in their former visits, under LEE. It is needless to say, "they voted as they shot." They gulped down the oath and pitched in their ballots—perjury the precursor of their franchise.

Secondly, we see how the battle with "Northern traitors" stands, for we fear it is not entirely over, and what are its ultimate prospects. If the President, having heard the voice of the people, which he has professed to be waiting for, and to hold in veneration, shall now be endowed with the wisdom to acquiesce in the verdict, he will undoubtedly spend the remainder of his official term, in the administration of the duties of his high position, with some direct reference to the people's wishes, now unequivocally expressed. In that case, he may retrieve some of his lost influence in the nation, and do the country good service, as well as secure for himself personally and officially a higher and fairer place in history than his late unhappy course seemed to augur for him. It is neither the wish nor the interest of the patriotic Union people to wantonly quarrel with their Chief Magistrate. And surely it is not to his credit or or his advantage to prolong a quarrel which he has unwisely begun with them.

Thirdly and lastly, we see in the results of the election, not only excellent reasons why the lovers of the country should fill the air with loud and grateful hurrahs, but also why the Democrats should be resigned to the situation. The intelligence and patriotism of the country, that saved it from the rebellion, will conduct its affairs safely in peace. Party was not then the ruling idea, and it will not be now. The absurd talk of revolution, Northern traitors, despotism, may do for electioneering clap-trap, to catch the simple. Let it be now dismissed, and we shall have prosperous times, politically and materially, and the country will, under Union auspices, be united and entire.

THE Richmond Enquirer is progressing wonderfully; altogether it is the most innocent and lamb-like journal imaginable. It insists that the South has done nothing blameable—far less anything for which it should be punished. In fact, the worst of it is, it did not succeed. It is creditable to have undertaken to break up the Government, and the failure of the undertaking is the only thing for which the South should be reproached. We quote a sample paragraph from the Enquirer:

> "It is common to speak of 'the mildest terms ever offered to rebels' before. None know better than those who love to roll words of opprobrium under their tongues, that never before was there a similar war, in which the beaten party were so sustained by legal and political authorities, and so obviously animated by rectitude of purpose and a conviction of legitimate authority. To call such a movement a rebellion and the actors rebels, is an abuse of terms. To punish the parties to it as criminals, under whatever form of law, would be moral and judicial murder,—no less. To proclaim Stonewall Jackson a felon, is to insult the moral sense of all mankind."

TENNESSEE.

Among the eleven States known as rebel, Tennessee is an exception. She was carried out of the Union by trick—but a large body of her people always remained true to the flag of their fathers. The record of East Tennessee Unionism has some of the most sublime passages to be found in the history of heroism. Tennessee furnished over fifty thousand loyal soldiers to the Federal armies.

Her Union men early began an effort to revive the State government and remodel their constitution and laws in accordance with the results of the war. The only saving clause in JOHNSON'S biography is the account of the part he took in this work.

Louisiana and Arkansas also begun a similar work, but both have failed.

Tennessee has neither faltered nor failed. She has not only fought rebels in her midst and pressing upon her from surrounding States, but a fallen President and his corrupting influences, whom she had reared and made. Twice favored by him when loyal Unionists were brought forward, the disloyal members have tried to break up the Legislature by bolting.

Refused the President's aid to enforce the laws, and exposed to a mob spirit no less savage than that at New Orleans or Memphis, those sturdy Legislators who ratified the Constitutional Amendment expelled their bolting members, and arraigned at the bar of the House the Judge who under JOHNSON'S influence dared interfere with the established prerogative of the House to enforce the attendance of its own members.

Such noble efforts were fitly crowned with the admission of her members elect to Congress, and none too soon; for it had already transpired that the President, exasperated by defeat there, had determined to declare Tennessee not yet possessed of a Republican form of Government, and to appoint a Governor in BROWNLOW'S place, and order another election in which all rebels should vote as they had in his other efforts at reorganization, and so have things their way.

The recognition of the loyal State Government by Congress placed it beyond the power of the President.

The State has been organized on the idea that loyal men must control it, and that its laws, institutions and civilization must harmonize with those of the North.

First, they swept away slavery, then they determined that none but the loyal should participate in the Government, the disloyal neither voting nor holding office. Lately elections held to fill vacancies in the General Assembly, occasioned by bolters, have resulted in giving the Radicals an addition of some seven or eight members. The Legislature assembled on Monday last. It is understood to have important work on hand,—putting the militia and jury on a loyal basis; providing a free school system, and possibly giving the franchise to the negro as he exercised it in the State up to 1837. There is something most encouraging in seeing the progress of such a work in the very midst of the late slave territory. We bid those men God speed—their work is great in the difficulties it has overcome, great in itself, and great, incalculably great in its influence. What she does,—other States may be expected to do. Tennessee, by the admission of her members of Congress, becomes a part of the power which makes laws for us, and which is to determine the admission of other States, and participating in the next Presidential election may lose or save for us a President. It is the only one of the States lately in rebellion in which the Republican party is organized and working with hope. Our friends there should never be allowed to yield the ground. If we would prevent the array of section against section, we must organize and build up a loyal sentiment, in other words, the Republican party, the only embodiment of loyal sentiment in the South. Their leading, their true men should have our sympathy. We should see to it that their loyal papers are sustained. These are practicable measures of aid entirely within our control. Schools and churches may be closed against loyal principles. The press has and will have access to the people. They read even the sentiments they do not like. What loyal journals have done for the North, the loyal press must do for the South. Give the people correct information, enable them to think and judge for themselves, and another war is impossible. We have watched with interest the loyal press of Tennessee.

There are only two firm, outspoken loyal English dailies in the State, the Press and Times, at Nashville, and the Post at Memphis, against five rebel dailies in each of those cities.

These loyal papers convey to their readers correct information of what is done and thought in the North; they are the organs of our civilization; they make the families and communities think and believe with us—they promote a new order of things agriculturally, educationally, morally and politically. Men of business who expect profits from the South, philanthropists who expect to benefit the people of the South, religionists who expect to affect the churches of the South, can employ no agency at once so available and so efficient as the press. As nothing has been so injurious to the South as the rebel press, so no instrumentality is fitted now to do it so much good as a loyal press. Pittsburgh has, commercially, more interest in Tennessee, perhaps, than any other State lately in rebellion, and her merchants may well see to it in every way in their power that Tennessee loyalty is sustained and advanced.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LIFE.

It is said that if a merchant or any business man wants a clerk and advertises for one, he is overrun with applications, while, at the same time, it is a matter of no small difficulty to secure an adequate supply of apprentices to learn good handicraft trades. These we do not take to be good signs of the tone of feeling among our older boys and our younger class of young men who have their business in life yet to choose. It is inferred from these facts, and we see no error or defect in the logic, that there is, among the candidates for future business, standing and prosperity in the country, a prevailing and somewhat uniform prejudice against personal and physical labor.

We have nothing to say in the least degree disparaging to clerkships, whether they be at the counter or at the desk, in the store, the office, or the banking house. But the number of such situations is necessarily limited, and cannot afford places for all the rising young men of the generation. Besides, the advantages of them are greatly overrated, as the more thoughtful and provident of those who occupy them will testify. They have their advantages, undoubtedly, but there are also drawbacks to them. They may be less laborious, but they are not so healthy as physical toil. Their present pay may be more than that of a journeyman at a trade, though this is far from being always so, but they have not the same prospect of increase as a good workman at any trade has when he sets up for himself. The small affair of wearing better clothes has its effect in the greater expense of them, and the still smaller consideration of soft white hands is balanced by stronger arms and a good digestion.

The apprenticeship in a city is, we confess, not an attractive one, as things are done in these times. We have often pitied the poor boys who have no week-day homes but the shop or the manufactory, and no Sabbath-day homes but the street corners, no associations but those of the like forlorn class, and no recreations but the places of public and not always innocent or safe resort. But, after all the trials connected with the season of apprenticeship—trials which might be greatly diminished by humane and christian treatment on the part of employers and their families—the attainment of a good trade, to a steady and virtuous young man, is enough to compensate for them. It is a hill of difficulty to ascend, but independence is at the summit.

In choosing an employment for life, then, we advise the youth not to be carried away from a just judgment, by present appearances, which are often deceptive, and especially to discard at once and forever, the unmanly and pernicious notion, that physical labor, the labor of the hands, has necessarily connected with it any discredit. The men who are, in their advanced years, living in affluence and comfort, sober and respectable men, had no such mistaken idea in the days of their vigor and youth. And in the estimation of such men, with all their experience and with all their accumulated wealth, the steady, industrious, trusty apprentice will stand as high as any other youth. It is not the position or the employment that gives worth or happiness to the man. These are inherent in the man himself, and may be as well cultivated and as finely developed in the tradesman as in any other man.

TEXAS AND THE AMENDMENT.

The Legislature of the State of Texas having, by a vote of seventy to five, rejected the Constitutional Amendment, has placed itself outside of argument on that question. The other Southern States, it is quite evident, are prepared to pronounce against the measure. It is only a small minority of the Southern people that are for it. Congress will experience but little difficulty should the Amendment—through the action of the South—fail. There will still be there the minority and the vast majority in the North to instruct it in what to do. These elections, whose magnificent results we are now recording, open the way and light the path.

THURLOW WEED.

Mr. WEED is not lucky in his old age. Whatever, of late, he attaches himself to almost certainly fails. On the relations of cause and effect, it is useless to speculate—the fact is sufficient. He went in for HOFFMAN, and worked with the worst class that ever took part—legally or illegally—in an election. He had oceans of money—an element with which he is formidable—at his command. It was a life-and-death struggle. He lost—the worst fact connected with the business being, that a life-long Whig and Republican, he found his political grave in the Democratic Potter's field.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The New London (Conn.) Chronicle says: "We saw a man a day or two since who ought to be in a lunatic asylum. He had over $600 in twenty dollar gold pieces loose in his pocket. Our elderly readers will remember that at one time this coin was current here. Civilization has advanced, however, and paper is used instead. It almost makes one shudder to think how barbarous we used to be."

The Louistown (Me.) Journal says: "An old lady, who had never seen a feminine waterfall, in company with her daughter, visited our city a few days since, when she espied one of those singular excrescences on the back part of a lady's head. Holding up both hands, she exclaimed, 'Why, what do you call that big stuffed bag, Mary?' 'That's a waterfall, ma.' 'A waterfall—it looks more like a land slide.'"

John Dabury, the keeper of a restaurant in Richmond, was a slave before the war, but had bought his freedom, and when the war broke out he owed a balance of $200. Some advised him not to pay it, saying, "You are free by the law." John's reply was, "No, my master acted like a gentleman to me: he let me buy myself and my wife cheap; I owe him the money honestly, and I intend to pay it."

About $350,000 worth of stock has been manufactured into 950,000 hats in the establishments for this purpose in Franklin, the present year. About one-eighth of the stock is of domestic manufacture, and seven-eighths imported. The value of the goods made is nearly $1,300,000.

The Toronto Globe publishes the following: Preparations are being made for the immediate housing in of all the British gunboats on the western lakes, and it is expected that the work will be begun on some of the of the vessels by the 10th of this month. Mr. William Irving, architect, has prepared plans for the proposed alterations, and the contract has been awarded to Mr. John Clemments, of this city. The Cherub will be quarted at Goedrich, the Huron at the Queen's wharf, Toronto, and the Britomart at Dunnville, where the alterations proposed will be made. These will be in the shape of a cover over the deck, at a distance of about four feet from the bulwarks, with a side partition to fill up the intervening space. The alteration will make the boat habitable during the winter.

Alexandria, Virginia, has discovered its oldest inhabitant in the person of a bright mulatto woman, residing on Cameron street, between Patrick and Henry streets, by the name of Anna Carter, who was born in that city in the year 1755, making her at the present time 111 years of age. Her hearing and eyesight are somewhat impaired, and she is slightly affected with paralysis, otherwise she seems to be in a remarkable state of preservation, and bids fair to continue a dweller among us a number of years to come.

A letter from the City of Mexico, dated October 22d, speaks of the preparations to leave, as follows: Recently a large quantity of fixed ammunition was destroyed at the citadel in this city, it being unsafe to transport shells, &c., to Vera Cruz; arms have been turned over to the Mexican authorities, and several large trains with army stores have been dispatched within the last week to the coast. Daily sales are held on the Plaza of horses, mules, clothing and equipage, which would be required if the army were to remain. Well informed officials assert that the French soldiers will embark for home before the last of February.

PERSONAL.

—Hon. J. S. Fowler, United States Senator from Tennessee, is stopping at the Monongahela House. We hope our manufacturers will not allow him to depart without offering him a special opportunity to become acquainted with the extended and varied interest of Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania to be affected by Congressional legislation. No statesman from the South has won more upon the confidence and sympathy of the North since the war than Senator Fowler.

—Dr. Macgowan, President of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, recently told the Chamber that the Chinese were the only people with whom he had done business who had never cheated him out of a dollar.

—A great celebrity of the French medical world, the well known surgical operator, Jobert de Lambelle, has just died in a mad house, where he has been for about a year. For dexterity of hand and certainty of execution, he was without a rival in the world.

—Hon. J. S Reisinger, for two terms the Representative from Crawford county in the Ohio Legislature, and Samuel D. Reisinger, his son, both died of cholera in Cincinnati, on the 11th inst. The son has been attending medical lectures in Cincinnati, and was attacked by cholera on the 9th. The father hastened from his home in Galion to Cincinnati to attend him, and on the 13th was himself attacked by cholera. The next day both father and son died.

—George N. Sanders has declared his willingness to be pardoned, and having been a good rebel, it is likely that he will receive the document with the stamped representation of Andrew Johnson's signature. It is well to note here, however, that he accused Andy Johnson publicly of conniving at Mr. Lincoln's assassination, if not of instigating it.

—John Morrissey gives as his motive for being a candidate for Congress that he has a son twelve years of age, and he feels it "a duty that I owe to him to make my record as clear and honorable as possible, that my manhood may atone for the follies and errors of my youth and leave behind me memories of which my son in after years may be proud and that will cast no shadow upon his path through life."

A Question of Many Millions.

A statement, concerning the disputed claim of the Corporation of Trinity Church, New York, to property in that city, valued at many millions of dollars, was published on Monday, over the signature of such prominent and respectable names as those of General John A. Dix, John J. Sisco, Gulian C. Verplank and others. They declare that all the legal points of the question have been settled over and over again, and that it is waste of money and time to go into the Courts any more. In response Mr. Clinton Roosevelt—a well-known and, we believe, wealthy gentlemen, who introduces himself as an heir of Hillelie Jans, one of the original owners—says that he has searched the title of Trinity Church, and found, what perfectly astonished him, that the Vestry had been in the habit of referring to a notice of lispendens, signed "Bolingbroke," as a grant from Queen Anne. In a word, that which has held the title open to question being referred to constantly as having settled it, until lately, having notified the Right Rev. Bishop and the Rector, Dr. Dix, of this discovery, the latter, in his late centennial sermon, has declared the property was given to him or those with him by "Providence." Dr. Dix—who is a son of General Dix—further asserts that the property is only worth six millions; the correctness of which estimate Mr. Roosevelt seems to strenuously doubt. He mentions one or two transactions which would seem to indicate that some error has been made in the Rev. Rector's calculations. Higher ground than this, however, is taken. Mr. Roosevelt insists upon it that the law has been infringed by these wealthy administrators of that part of the patrimony of St. Peter which the Episcopal Church holds it has a right to. He shows that, by law, no church establishment is allowed to have over a certain income. He contends that, on this ground, if none other, Trinity has forfeited its charter, and thus lets in the rightful heirs again. This contestant is evidently in earnest, and seems sanguine of ultimate success. Should Trinity be defeated before the Courts, or should the Corporation compromise, there is a gentleman connected with the press of Pittsburgh who would have to pay a very large amount of income tax.

The gold excitement, says the Athens (Ga.) Watchman, in the upper counties still continues unabated—indeed seems to be increasing. It is confined chiefly, we believe, to Hall, Lumpkin, Dawson and White counties. In Lumpkin and Hall sales of celebrated mines have been made at high figures. Among the recent sales in the latter county, that of the "Glade mine" has attracted much attention, as it is believed to be very rich. It is believed there are other rich mines in the neighborhood. We were lately shown specimens of gold found on an adjoining tract which are certainly very rich, and we learn from the signs it is believed to be abundant.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the said Commonwealth:

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, It has been the good and worthy custom of the Commonwealth to set apart, annually, a day for the special acknowledgment of the goodness of the ALMIGHTY, and for expressing by the whole people, at one time, and with a common voice, the THANKS and PRAISE which throughout the year are springing from the hearts of men; therefore,

I, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, do, by this my proclamation, recommend that the good people of the COMMONWEALTH observe Thursday, the Twenty-ninth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and do then assemble in their respective churches, and places of worship, and make their humble thank-offering to ALMIGHTY GOD for all His blessings during the past year.

For the abundant gathered fruits of the earth; for the thus far continued activity of industry; for the general preservation of health; and especially for that in His DIVINE MERCY, HE hath stayed the threatened Pestilence.

And, moreover, that they do beseech HIM to continue unto us all His blessings, and to confirm the hearts of the people of these United States, that by the lawful force of their will, Deeds of good, Justice, Wisdom and Mercy may be done.

GIVEN under my Hand and the great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-first.

BY THE GOVERNOR:

ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.

CHEAP BEEF.—A butcher in Plaquemine advertises in the South that he will furnish the people of the parish of Iberville with choice beef at ten cents, and extra pieces at twelve cents a pound.

Oranges now load many trees in this parish and their golden fruit looks tempting to the passer-by. No fruit tree on earth can be more beautiful than the orange tree, loaded with its yellow, luscious, autumnal crop, hanging upon branches amidst thousands of glossy leaves of the richest hue.—Planters' Banner.

The cold winds begin to warn us that winter is approaching. It will be a dreary winter to many negroes, and to many white people also. Provisions are scarce, money scarce and labor the same. People find it difficult to get wood chopped for winter use in most places. Many negroes prefer loafing about town to making two dollars a day at chopping wood. Jamaica is stamped on every village and plantation in the once busy and prosperous land.—Plaquemine Banner.

The Crescent states a curious fact in reference to the commerce of New Orleans. Instead of being exporters of sugar and molasses, as was formerly the case, both are now largely imported.

SUFFERING IN ALABAMA.—Accounts from Northern and Central Alabama report great destitution on account of the failure of many planters who had mortgaged lands for supplies; but the crops failing the lands are sold at ruinous rates. Families and homes are broken up under these forced sales. In Green county alone there are more suits on the circuit court docket than there are voters in the county. Meetings are being held urging the Legislature to pass laws preventing the sacrifice of property.

The Macon Telegraph says the authorities of that city are obliged to furnish from six to ten coffins per day, to bury negro paupers. Freedom is a great thing for the poor African. "Free to starve and die."

The first trial in Florida of a white man, in which negro testimony has been introduced, occurred at Jacksonville last week. It was the case of a white man on the charge of assault with intent to kill. He was tried by a jury of white men and sentenced by the judge to pay a fine of one thousand dollars.

The Montgomery (Alabama) Mail, noticing the increase of the city population, says: "Many counties have decreased in population. Negroes have deserted the plantations and sought the comparative ease and idleness of the cities. Young men have wandered from the country to try their fortunes at the central points of trade, and thus the fluctuation of the tide of human beings which sat in after the disorders of the war, have settled down with a decided drifting towards the cities and towns."

MADAME MURAT, OF FLORIDA.—Among the arrivals at Boston by the steamship China was the princess Murat, who is on her way home to Tallahassee, Florida, in company with the son of the late Commodore Dallas. It is stated that at the close of the war Louis Napoleon sent to know how she fared, and on receiving the required information, settled on her for life, the sum of 20,000 francs, or $3,800 in gold, annually. The princess married one of the immediate descendants of the King of Naples, and is just returning from a visit to Paris.—Savannah News.

Quite an "immediate descendant"—she married "Achille" the eldest son.

Mrs. DuBose, the only remaining child of Gen. Toombs, died in Washington, Wilkes county, Ga., on Saturday last.

DESTITUTION IN THE SOUTH.—There is a belt of country extending from North Carolina to Texas, including the northern and central points of the intervening States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, which in consequence of the failure of the crops, is threatened with most direful calamity that can befall a people—a state of destitution denoting the approach, and, it may be, the actual presence of famine before the maturity of the crops of 1867.

An Eastern Code.

The Annamite code has just been translated into French. It contains some curious laws. Under the head of suicide, it is ruled that if it has been caused by vexations, which the deceased has not been able to support, he who caused the death—no matter how indirectly—shall be brought before the tribunal, and the judge, before passing sentence, shall be careful to examine the face of the guilty person, to see if he has a hard and cruel air. The sentence commences with the bamboo, but when the case is aggravated the guilty party may lose his head. The Annamite laws are very severe in cases where a wife incites a husband to make away with himself, and enumerate at length the different vexations which may lead a man to prefer suicide to supporting any longer the conjugal yoke.

The code is often exceedingly minute in marking degrees; for example, it describes a wound, a red mark made on the skin, or a lump; and a citizen inflicting a bloody nose on another is open to receive thirty bamboo strokes; while a square inch of hair torn from the head brings a penalty of fifty strokes; a blow on the chest which produces spitting of blood, eighty; the same penalty for dirt thrown in a person's face, but one hundred if any happens to lodge in either eye or mouth; and for a serious wound, one hundred strokes and a year's exile; eight blows punish a wound inflicted in a natural opening of the body, such as ears and nostrils; it is a much more serious affair to steal clothes in winter than in summer; more serious to purloin food from persons who are hungry; and a man convicted of pulling away a ladder or loosening a saddle girth with intent must do so at the risk of bamboo, and even strangulation when the victim is killed.

People who "slang" each other are liable to a sound thrashing, but where an inferior "slangs" a superior the punishment is very severe. A judge must never pay any more attention to an anonymous charge than to find out the author, and have him choked when caught. Calumny is not tolerated. In fact, the laws against all that is false are exceedingly severe—a false answer, a false report, false money, and even a false almanac are enumerated. If a horseman jostles a person in the street he must hand over his horse to the injured party. If a doctor kills a sick person, as the code has it, legally, he is not liable to any penalty; but, if he does not follow the pharmacopœia and the patient dies, then he lays himself open to capital punishment.

Superstition of Sailors.

The New York World, in giving an account of the death of John Van Buren, on the steamer Scotia, relates this instance illustrating the superstition of sailors. It says: "The weather, almost immediately after Mr. Van Buren's death, became tremendously stormy. The Scotia was just sailing into the gale then raging along our eastern coast. The coincidence of Mr. Van Buren's death with the occurrence of the hurricane had an effect upon the minds of some of the working seamen, which, though not novel, considering their superstitious tendencies, is interesting to relate in reference to the present occasion. The sailors esteemed it very bad luck to keep the body on board, without instantly committing it to the deep, and were chagrined at the noble resolve of Commodore Judkins to bear the remains to our shore for interment. They requested its sea burial. It was refused. Still the storm continued, and the seamen considered the unconscious corpse a Jonah in their midst. It is stated that a movement was frustrated by detection, which they had covertly considered, if not determined, to cut the ropes that held the boat on the port side, in which the coffined remains had been placed. The conduct of the officers of the Scotia, in this circumstance, will be duly appreciated by the thousands to whom the regular interment of the body of Mr. Van Buren among the scenes and associations of his home, is in no small degree the mitigation of the personal sorrow occasioned by his untimely loss."

Taking Sheep to the West.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: The taking of sheep from Ohio and Brooke counties, in this State, and Washington county, Pa., to the West, and putting them out on shares has got to be a rather extensive and profitable business. We have known of several instances lately in which large profits have been realized. Most of the sheep thus put out have been taken to Illinois, but a great many have gone also to Western Ohio and Indiana. The process is to drive out say a hundred head of good average sheep, and find a farmer who is willing to take them on his farm, attend to them and divide the wool and the increase every year. The profits to the man who puts out the sheep run up very fast by this arrangement, and the bargain also pays the farmer abundantly well for his trouble. Sheep that can be bought in this county for two and three dollars are worth in the West five and six. The margin of profit is very handsome. In this connection we may mention a recent transaction with a gentleman in Fauquier county, Virginia, by which he has been furnished with a thousand sheep on the shares for a term of ten years. He is to graze them on his farm and at the end of that time restore a like number to the seller, and in the meantime divide equally the wool and the increase of the flock.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM CONVICTION.—On the trial of young Parry, one of the Fenian prisoners, in Toronto—a mere boy of fourteen or fifteen—his mother testified as follows:

"The prisoner is my son by my first husband; his father was Welch by birth and so am I; my son will be fifteen this year; he was born in Cincinnati; he was commencing to learn his trade as tinsmith in that city: he was a good boy and was not in the habit of going out at night; for two weeks before leaving Cincinnati he had no work; his employers were taking stock, so work was dull at the time; he wanted to go to St. Louis, but I did not let him; he then said he would go to New York, and if he could not get work he would return in two weeks; he does not belong to any society, nor does he know the use of firearms, nor were any ever in the house; I never heard a complaint of any description against him, and I never knew of his being arrested until I heard he was a prisoner in Toronto."

He was acquitted and discharged. The Judge dismissed him thus: "You are said to be a boy of good character, and if you are such you ought to have known better than to yield to the solicitations of the bad company you got into. You are now at liberty to go home with your mother, and I hope this will be a lesson for you during life to avoid bad company in future."

Delia Webster's Houses Again Fired—Destruction of $8,000 Worth of Property.

The Madison Courier, of Friday, gives the following account of another fire on the premises of Miss Delia Webster, in Trimble county, Ky.: "Our city was again illuminated last night by a large fire over the river on the premises of Miss Delia A. Webster. The flames were first seen about eleven o'clock, and continued increasing until one, then began gradually to abate, but did not die away much until four o'clock this morning, and now as we go to press at three, in the afternoon, the smoke is still rising from the ruins. A large barn, forty feet square, and some other outbuildings, were entirely consumed, as also several piles of seasoned lumber which she had got ready for some school buildings, including about ten thousand clapboards and considerable fencing. Miss Webster has had seventeen dwelling houses and four barns burned or otherwise destroyed upon her farm in Trimble county, Kentucky. Her losses by fire during the last two weeks amount to over eight thousand dollars, only three hundred of which is covered by insurance."

HEAR WHAT THE REV. ISAAC AIKEN SAYS IN RELATION TO THE Greatest Dyspepsia Medicine OF THE AGE.

"COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE."

[From the Presbyterian Banner.]

JOSEPH FLEMING, Druggist, No. 84 Market street, Pittsburgh:—I take great pleasure in stating that, after having suffered from Dyspepsia for about fifteen years, at some periods much more than others, I have been entirely cured by the use of COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE. My friends know that of late years my case was an extreme one. I had great suffering from eating any kind of food, and on an average would vomit about one-third of my meals, in a sour, undigested mass. When the severe attacks would come, I would lose all strength, and be utterly helpless. Some of these attacks would be so severe, that for days together I could not retain anything on my stomach save a little dry toast and tea. For years I knew not what it was to pass five consecutive hours without intense pain. From the time I took the first dose of this medicine, I ceased vomiting, gradually all soreness passed away, and flesh and strength returned; and ever since I have been able to eat any kind of food set upon the table.

Six months have now passed without symptoms of the return of the disease. The case was considered by all, even physicians, so marvelous, that for a time it was feared it might be fictitious; but I am now so well convinced that I have been not merely relieved, but permanently cured, that I can conscientiously recommend Coe's Dyspepsia Cure to all the victims of Dyspepsia.

ISAAC AIKEN,
Late pastor of Beaver Street Methodist Church,
ALLEGHENY, Feb. 26, 1866. Allegheny, Pa.

The Sole Agent for COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE, in Pittsburgh, is JOSEPH FLEMING, Druggist, No. 84 Market Street, corner of the Diamond, near Fourth street.

LIGHT EQUAL TO GAS.

PATENT

GAS CONDENSING BURNERS

Can be used on any Lamp and Dispense entirely with Chimneys.

The flame produced by these Burners, spreads out similar to that of Gas. The construction is such that the smoke is confined in a Gas condensing chamber, and is wholly converted into flame. The burner does not depend directly upon the wick for its light, but burns the smoke which is produced therefrom, and BURNS LESS OIL THAN CHIMNEY LAMPS, and produces a more brilliant light than any other burner in the market.

WANTED.—AGENTS FOR THE PICTORIAL BOOK OF

ANECDOTES AND INCIDENTS

OF THE REBELLION;

Heroic, Patriotic, Romantic, Humorous and Tragical, Splendidly Illustrated with over 300 fine Portraits and Beautiful Engravings.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos, of the war.

These illustrate the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service. From the beginning of the war the author has been engaged in collecting all the anecdotes connected with or illustrative of it, and has grouped and classified them under appropriate heads, and in a very attractive form.

The volume is profusely illustrated with over 300 engravings by the first artists, which are really beautiful; worthy of examination as specimens of art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. The book's contents include reminiscences of camp, picket, spy, scout, bivouac, siege and battlefield adventures; thrilling feats of bravery, wit, drollery, comical and ludicrous adventures, etc., etc.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit and authentic history, are skilfully interwoven in this work of literary art. The people are tired of dry details and partisan works and want something humorous, romantic and startling. Our agents are making from $100 to $200 per month, clear of all expenses. Send for circulars, giving full particulars, and see our terms and proof of the above assertion. Address,

AN OLD HAND.

veined and wrinkled, knuckley and brown, s good old hand is clasping mine;
d above it, and, looking down, udy its aspect, line by line.

hand has clasped a thousand hands at long have known no answering thrill:
have mouldered in foreign lands—
ne in the graveyard on the hill.

ed a mother's hand, in the day en it was little, and soft, and white—er who kissed it and went away, rest till the waking in God's good light.

ed in a lover's hand, years agone,
o sailed away and left her in tears;
r Sahara's torrid sun bones have whitened years and years.

ed the hand of a good man true,
o held it softly and fell asleep, woke no more and never knew
w long that impress this would keep.

ed so many, so many—so few at still respond to the living will,
an answer this pressure so kind and true!
many, that lie unmoved and still!

ed, at last, this hand, my own;
d mine will moulder, too, in turn,
any clasp it when I am gone?
vain I study this hand to learn!

THE FOUR HENRYS.

following strange tale, translated he French, contains the account of a singular rencontre of four indi- s, who made themselves prominent ance during the middle and end of xteenth century, and is as follows:

stormy evening, as the rain fell in tor- an old woman, who lived in a miser- ut in the forest of St. Germain, and passed in the surrounding country ind of witch, heard a loud knocking door. She opened it, and a young n horseback presented himself, and hospitality.

He appeared to be young, and his dress denoted rank. d woman lighted a fire, and inquired stranger whether he was hungry and d food. The appetite of a youth of n is like his heart at the same age, g and not difficult to please, and he liately accepted the offer. A morsel ese and a loaf of black bread from pboard was all that the old dame produce.

ALS THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

et us sit down, in imagination, at a ner in England three hundred years . Mighty joints of beef, mutton and l, boiled and roast, are accompa- d by veal pies, capons, black cocks, ckens, plovers, partridges, two kinds bread—the delicate marchpane and the rser cheate; vegetables are almost un- own in England, and form no part of the ular bill of fare. The first in rank are ved, and the dishes are then passed n in gradation to the lower tables, the remains being served for the poor, who ry day await this benevolence at the r gate.

he second course is ushered in in like nner, and is still more plentiful and curious—roast swans, venison, pheas- s, pullets, snipe, teal, pigeons and pas- . The third course is distinguished by richness of the sweets; jellies in the pe of animals, trees, houses, etc.: a "sub- ty," or elaborate piece of sugar work, resenting, perhaps, a fortress in min- ure; "tarts of divers hues and sundry nominations," conserve of English and eign fruits, gingerbread, marmalade, d comfits in endless variety. The bev- ge consists of ale and mead, and many nds of wine, served in silver tankards d Venetian glasses.

The waiters at the Earl's tables are gen- men of high birth, even the younger sons noblemen, who are placed there to learn mestic customs and all the intricate ar- ngements of a large house. Ushers, arshals, cup bearers, are all of rank, and ithout the perfect insight into domestic anners they thus practically obtained, ey would be utterly at the mercy of their merous dependents, and unable to main- in in order the hundred retainers that ay hereafter eat and drink and be othed at his expense, when they them- lves become heads of families.

Profound silence is preserved during nner, "for it is the greatest part of civ- ity," save when some one rises; and, rst uncovering his head, takes a full cup his hand, and, setting his countenance ith a grave aspect, asks for audience. ilence once being obtained, he begins to reathe out the name, peradventure, of me honorable personage, whose health is rank to, and he that pledges must like- ise off with his hat, kiss his fingers and ow himself, in sign of reverent accept- nce, and thus the first scene is enacted.

The banquet over, the guests wash heir hands in rosewater, and, leaving the entlemen to their wine, as in the present ay, the ladies retire to amuse them- elves with backgammon, cards, ninepins, owls, and, undoubtedly, the scandal of ueen Elizabeth's court. When the gen- lemen have contented themselves with wine well spiced, perhaps the whole party go on a hawking or hunting expedition, or engage in a trial of skill at archery, or, if the company be very numerous and of high rank, a bull or a bear may be baited to death for their amusement, the fair ladies enjoying it quite as much as the Spanish beauties of the present day. At seven o'clock supper is served in the great hall, and resembles the dinner on a much smaller scale. After supper the company amuse themselves with dancing, chess, draughts, qui fray (hot chicken), or tiers (blindman's buff), and other games, now numbered only among the sports of young children. At 10 the bell summons to the chapel. Prayers are said by the chaplain, and the household separates for the night. —Exchange.

THE PRINTER AND HIS TYPE.

The following beautiful extract is from the pen of Benjamin F. Taylor, the printer poet:

Perhaps there is no department of enterprise whose details are less understood, by intelligent people, than the "art preservative"—the achievement of types. Every day their life long, they are accustomed to read the newspaper, and find fault with its statements, its arrangements, its looks; to plume themselves upon the discovery of some rougish and acrobatic type that gets into a frolic and stands upon its head; or of some waste letter or two in it—but of the process by which the newspaper is made, of the myriads of motions and the thousands of pieces necessary to its composition, they know little and think less. They imagine they discourse of a wonder, indeed, when they speak of the fair white carpet, woven for thought to walk on, of the rags that fluttered on the back of the beggar yesterday. But there is something more wonderful still. When we look at the hundred and fifty-two little boxes, somewhat shaded by the touch of inky fingers, that compose the printer's "case," noiseless, except the clicking of the types, as one by one they take their places in the growing line—we think we have found the marvel of the art. We think how many fancies in fragments there are in the boxes, how many atoms of poetry and eloquence the printer can make here and there, if he had only a little chart to work by, how many facts in a small "handful," how much truth in chaos. Now he picks up the scattered elements until he holds in his hands a stanza of "Gray's Elegy," or a monody upon Grimes's "All Buttoned up Before." Now he sets "puppy missing," and now "Paradise Lost;" he arrays a bride in "small caps," and a sonnet in "nonpareil;" announces the languishing "live," in one sentence—transposes the word and deplores the days that are few and "evil" in the next. A poor jest ticks its way slowly into the printer's hand, like a clock just running down, and a strain of eloquence marches into the line letter by letter. We fancy we can tell the difference by hearing by the ear, but perhaps not. The types that told a wedding yesterday announce a burial to-morrow—perhaps the same letters. They are the elements to make a world of—those types are a world with something in it as beautiful as Spring, as rich as Summer, and as grand as Autumn flowers that frost cannot wilt—fruit that shall ripen for all time. The newspaper has become the log book of the age. It tells at what rate the world is running; we cannot find our "reckoning" without it. True the green grocer may bundle up a pound of candles in our last expressed thoughts, but it is only coming to base uses, something that is done times innumerable. We console ourselves by thinking that one can make of that newspaper what he cannot make of living oaks—a bridge for time, that he can fling over the chasm of the dead years and walk safely back upon the shadowy sea into the far past. The singer shall not end his song, nor the soul be eloquent no more. The realm of the press is enchanted ground. Sometimes the editor has the happiness of knowing that he has defended the right, exposed the wrong, protected the weak; that he has given utterance to a sentiment that has cheered somebody's solitary hour, made somebody happier, kindled a smile upon a sad face, or a hope in a heavy heart. He may meet with that sentiment many years after; it may have lost all charms of its paternity, but he feels affection for it. He welcomes it as a long absent child. He reads it as for the first time, and wonders if indeed he wrote it, for he has changed since then. Perhaps he could not give utterance to the sentiment now—perhaps he would not if he could. It seems like the voice of his former self calling to his parents, and there is something mournful in his tone. He begins to think—to remember why he wrote it, who were his readers then, and whither they have gone—what he was then, and how much he has changed. So he muses, until he finds himself wondering if that thought of his will continue to float after he is dead, and whether he is looking upon something that will survive him. And then comes the sweet consciousness that there is nothing in the sentence that he could wish unwritten—that is a better part of him—a shred from a garment of immortality he shall leave behind him when he joins the "innumerable caravan," and takes his place in the silent halls of death.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

A MODERN MIRACLE.

From old and young, from rich and poor, from high born and lowly, comes the Universal Voice of praise of

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

It is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. But above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

Use it a few times, and PRESTO, CHANGE!

the whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

It will not take a long disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect. You will find it CHEAP TO BUY, PLEASANT TO TRY, AND SURE TO DO YOU GOOD.

There are many imitations. Be sure you procure the genuine, manufactured only by ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.—A stated meeting of the Select and Common Councils of Allegheny City will be held this evening.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.—J. C. Burbank was held to bail yesterday by Mayor McCarthy, to answer a charge of surety of the peace preferred by P. McKendry.

POCKET PICKED.—Yesterday afternoon a lady while riding in a car on the Citizens' Passenger Railway, had her pocket cut out of her dress, and her portemonnaie, containing eighty-five dollars, stolen.

ALLEGED LARCENY.—Evan Evans entered a complaint yesterday before the Mayor, charging John Grady with the larceny of a revolver. The defendant was arrested, but there not being sufficient evidence against him to warrant his detention, he was discharged.

THE NEW ORPHAN ASYLUM.—The new building of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum, on Ridge street, Allegheny, being now occupied by the children, will be opened for the reception of visitors to-day, at half-past two P. M. The clergy and other friends of the institution are invited to attend. Several addresses may be expected.

ASSAULT AND LARCENY.—Charles P. Coates, charged on oath of A. T. Richey with committing an assault and battery upon his person, on the Steubenville turnpike, some days since, and robbing him of a valuable silver watch, was before Mayor McCarthy for a hearing yesterday, but owing to the absence of witnesses the examination was postponed until the 15th inst. Coates is an old offender, having served a term in the Penitentiary for stealing a horse from Mr. Quail, a resident of Ross township, a few years ago.

A REMARKABLE cure by the Indian Herb Doctor, at 194 Liberty street: This is to certify that having intensely suffered for some time from dyspepsia, loss of appetite, nervousness and general debility, congestion, exhaustion, pain in the breast, &c. After trying the most scientific doctors of the present age without the least particle of relief; till I commenced to use the Vegetable Medicine which has restored me to perfect health.

W. H. MATTHEWS,
Foreman of Union Iron Mills.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—Thomas Smith, the colored man, charged with shooting Henry Hedderich, on Fifth street, a few weeks ago, was taken before Mayor McCarthy yesterday afternoon for a hearing. J. W. Taylor, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth, and Messrs. John M. Kirkpatrick and John [illegible] McCarthy, [illegible] for the defense. [illegible] the case, [illegible] committed [illegible] charge of murder at the next term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Still Another Cure.

[illegible] where to find aid, I hereby make known the fact that I was so deaf for several years that I could not hear a watch tick, and that Dr. Aborn, at the Merchants' Hotel, has by a few operations, so restored my hearing that I now can hear. His method of treatment is of the most scientific, and unaccompanied by pain.

JOHN KREES, Mt. Washington.

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A man named Crist, a resident of Manchester, and employed as a fireman on an engine on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, accidentally fell off the engine near the railroad bridge in Allegheny, on Tuesday afternoon. The wheels of the engine passed over his left arm, crushing it so terribly that amputation was rendered necessary. It is feared that his injuries are of a dangerous character.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The McGaw Lodge, No. 169, Independent Order Good Templars, held a meeting on Tuesday evening, in the First Presbyterian Church, Temperanceville, when the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing quarter: W C T, John Bryan; W V T, Miss Alice McCormick; W M, Jack Fording, W S, Miss Nannie McCormick; W T, Jos Bryant; W C, Rev J E McGaw. After the election of officers, stirring addresses were delivered by the Rev John E McGaw and Rev S P Jennings. The lodge was never in a more flourishing condition than at present, which shows that the adherents of temperance are fast multiplying.

USEFUL FOR FIREMEN.—Mr. J. Henry, formerly a citizen of Pittsburgh, but now residing in Steubenville, is about to introduce in the Pittsburgh Fire Department, a very useful instrument, which is a spanner and hose carrier or holder combined, patented March 2, 1866, by P. Frentz, a maimed soldier of New Albany. The utility of this invention is apparent to every fireman, and the Chief Engineer of the Louisville Department, where it is now in use, speaks highly of it. Mr. Henry proposes to sell the right to manufacture and sell it in this State to one department, and it is believed it would prove a remunerative investment for the Firemen's Association.

A SUBSTANTIAL BENEFIT.—Harry Overington, Esq., Treasurer of the Pittsburgh Theater, yesterday paid to Mrs. Amelia Hedderich, widow of the unfortunate Henry Hedderich, who was shot by the colored man Smith, the sum of three hundred and twenty-seven dollars and fifty cents, the proceeds of the matinee on Wednesday of last week. This is a very handsome sum, and Manager Henderson, who gave the use of the theater free of charge and paid all the incidental expenses, cannot but feel gratified at the result. Mr. Henderson, John Brougham, the theater company, the orchestras of the Opera House and Theater, and the several brass bands of the city have performed a praiseworthy act.

Outrageous Assault by a Husband.

Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, yesterday took the information of Mrs. Prudence J. Cupp, who charged her husband, George Cupp, with aggravated assault and battery. The parties reside in the Fourth ward, Allegheny. Mrs. Cupp alleges that on the 30th of October her husband, while intoxicated, seized a large stone china cup and hurled it at her, striking her on the head, and knocking her down, and inflicting such injuries as may yet prove fatal. The wife states that she has borne his abuse for a long time, and could not feel safe while in his presence, and that she told him several times that she could support herself and children without his assistance. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer Joseph Campbell, who succeeded in arresting the husband in the Allegheny Market House. He gave bail for his appearance at the December term of the Criminal Court to answer the charge. After the release of the defendant on bail, Mrs. Mary Murray, mother of Mrs. Cupp, lodged an information against him for disorderly conduct. Mrs. Murray states that she furnished her daughter (Mrs. Cupp) and children with board at her house, and that George Cupp has come there on several occasions intoxicated, disturbing the peace of the family, and sometimes committing very malicious acts. A warrant was placed in the hands of an officer for the arrest of the accused.

Birmingham Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council of the borough of Birmingham, was held on Tuesday evening. Members present—Messrs. Fred. L. Ihmsen, R. Wallace, B. Walker, R. Cunningham, S. McIlwaine, F. Zelfell and Burgess J. Salisbury.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The Finance Committee reported and advised a partial payment of their indebtedness to Park's heirs. On motion of Mr. Ihmsen, two thousand dollars was ordered to be paid on the claim of Park's heirs.

The Committee on Streets reported in reference to Fire Plugs, and recommended the location of plugs as follows:

One on the corner of Ormsby and Neville streets; one on the corner of Ormsby and Breed streets; one on the corner of Denman and Bradford streets; one on McKee street; one on McKee street, in front of Adams' glasshouse; one on the corner of McKee and Bingham streets; one on the corner of Berry and Bingham streets; one on the corner of Washington and Center streets; and one on Franklin street, 400 feet south of Washington street. The pipes have been laid at all the points above named, except the last three.

On motion of Mr. Ihmsen, the Street Committee were instructed to procure plugs for all places designated in the report, where pipes have been laid.

On motion of Mr. McIlwaine, the Burgess was requested to call a public meeting of the citizens, to be held on Saturday evening next, at seven o'clock, in the Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing a Hose Company.

The committee on Markets reported that three chimney flues were sufficient at the Market Hall, the cost of which would amount to two hundred and fifty dollars. On motion, the matter was referred back to the Market Committee with power to act.

On motion of Mr. Welker, the question of the extension of the wharf was referred to the Water Committee, with power to act.

A petition of citizens residing on and near Ormsby and Washington streets, was presented, praying that a public gas lamp be placed on the corner of Washington and Ormsby streets. On motion of Mr. Welker, the matter was referred to the street Committee, with power to act.

The following bills were presented, and on motion, warrants ordered to be drawn for the amounts specified:

McIntosh, Hemphill & Co., for fire plug	$ 50 00
James Montgomery, for setting fire plug	24 36
James Marshall, for pipes	21 43
B. Krugh, for lettering street signs	61 00
W. S. Haven, for printing borough laws	139 60
J. W. Patterson, for auditing accounts, &c.	75 00
J. Salisbury, amount paid for street signs	16 50
James Salisbury, amount paid for glazing lock-up	1 25
G. O'Neil & Co., for 2,100 bushels gravel	52 50
D. Doran for street expenses	700 00
F. Fogle, services as constable	64 00
H. Gruntz, services as night watch	48 00
H. Husted, services as night watch	62 25

On motion, Council adjourned.

Malaria Everywhere.

Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of Nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the Universal Air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere. The intermittents and remittents at present so general in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the far East. Prepare the system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS for a successful battle with the mephitic causes of all epidemics. Be wise in time. Sold everywhere.—New York World, Nov. 6, 1866.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, November 7, 1866.

The applications for loans to-day were quite liberal, but the money market is too inadequately supplied to extend accommodations commensurate with the demand upon it. Rates have not varied for the different grades of paper, and a close line of distinction is drawn. First class offerings are taken at from 8 to 9 per cent., but the great bulk of discounts is made at from 10 to 12, which are about the ruling figures on the open market. Many of our banks and other institutions have announced dividends:

Bank of Pittsburgh	5 per cent.
Exchange National	6 "
Citizens' National	6 "
People's National	5 "
First National (quarterly)	3 "
German National	6 "
Pittsburgh Bank of Savings	6 "
Allegheny Gas Company	4 "
Western Insurance Company	1 50 per share.
Keystone Savings Bank	1 50 "

—The forenoon quotations received at Bryan's Stock Rooms, are as follows:

Gold	147⅛
U. S. Bonds, 1881	111⅝
" 5-20's 1862	110⅛
" " 1865	107⅞
" " new issues, 1865	110⅛
" 1st series 7-30's	108
" 2d and 3d series 7-30's	106
Michigan Southern	93½
Cleveland and Pittsburgh	93½
Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago	100¼
Erie	83⅛
W. U. Telegraph Co	51⅞
Chicago and Rock Island	100⅛
Chicago and Northwestern	58½

—The mining quotations show lower figures. Benneheff is the only stock of its class that holds up to a respectable rate, and is the only one of any prominence at all at the New York Mining Board. The following quotations for it and eight gold stocks that attract some little attention:

Benneheff (oil) $6 10; Gregory (gold) 13 75; Quartz, 5 80; Hope, 1 50; Texas, 30; Corydon, 5 75; Holman, 25; Keystone, 11; Liberty, 20.

—The chief topic of interest in commercial and financial circles, was the recent advance which has taken place in the prices of all kinds of breadstuffs, particularly in corn. Bankers and moneyed men generally feel somewhat disposed to look upon present prices as fictitious, and as due only to an excessive inflation produced only by speculation. Under this impression, those whose business renders it necessary to make advances on grain receipts are nervous and cautious. On the other hand, grain dealers and others not immediately interested look upon the recent advance in prices as the direct result of a scarcity of breadstuffs all over Europe and the United States. [illegible] but we have not more than enough of wheat in the country to feed our own people.

It cannot be said, however, that there is a scarcity of corn in the country. Throughout the Northwestern States there is abundance of corn, but it cannot be sent to the seaboard before the close of navigation, and at the present rates of freight the railroads will not probably be able to deliver it at New York or other Eastern cities at anything below present prices.—Chicago Republican.

—A correspondent of a Pittsburgh paper proposes that those engaged in the production of oil should hold a convention, and form a combination for the purpose of controlling and advancing the price of oil. Whilst opposed to all combinations, we see no objection to the formation of trade associations of the kind suggested for the general benefit of the business of those engaged together. The oil trade is perhaps in a worse condition than almost any other branch of business, and we do not hesitate to say that it is a duty of those engaged in producing it to adopt such measures as may be calculated to elevate it to a proper and, indeed, more respectable standard. If properly managed, the oil trade would be a potent engine to regulate exchanges between this country and Europe. But whilst the article is almost given away, as is often the case, its production and shipment cannot be expected to accomplish very much in this regard.—Phila. News.

—The Richmond Examiner of the 26th says: "The New York papers contain gratifying information of the improving value of Southern securities. In the New York market, Southern stocks of all descriptions are much sought after. Financial arrangements have been made by many of the leading States of the South, which will assist materially to place their finances upon a secure and advantageous basis. Similar statements are affirmed respecting railroads and other public works in this section."

It might be well to add as a commentary to the above, that the New York merchants who have, for six months past, been crowding goods into the South on credit, feel somewhat discouraged at the prospect before them as to payments. Their Southern friends are not quite as "honorable" as they thought them to be.

—A new and dangerous counterfeit of United States Legal Tender notes of the denomination of $50 made its appearance at the Treasury Department, Washington, on Monday, and was pronounced by Gen. Spinner, United States Treasurer, to be one of the most skilfully executed ever brought to his notice. The spurious note was detected by the vignette of Gen. Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the United States Treasury, which, on inspection, was found to have been split from a $2 Treasury note and neatly pasted on the counterfeit $50. The engraving of the other portions of the note is cleverly imitated, and can only be distinguished from the genuine by the closest inspection.

—The market for mining shares to-day, was flat, with little disposition to operate beyond the necessities of the hour, and little apparent power to withstand the pressure of the bears. The transactions were very light. Albany and Boston sold at 5; Bay State at 13, as before, and Canada at 1. Hancock received the attention of the bears and was sold down to 17, a decline 1½; Pewabic fell off to 28, a decline of 1½. Pittsburgh was steady at 50; Rockland sold at 6⅝, and Eagle River at 4¼. The following were the closing prices for the principal mining shares:—Albany and Boston 4¾ offered; Bay State, 12a13; Copper Falls 42¼ offered; Franklin, 43a46½; Hancock 16⅞a17; Humboldt, 3a4; Huron, 37a42; Minnesota, 17¼ asked; National, 10a15; Petherick, 3½a4¼; Pewabic, 28 offered; Phoenix, 8 offered; Pittsburgh, 50 offered; Quincy, 45a49; Rockland, 6¼a6⅝; South Side, 1½a2½; St. Clair, 7¾ asked; Superior, 2½a3.

The prices of mining shares have now reached a point which may well attract the attention of those seeking investment. Those who have heretofore been "clamming at high water" now have an opportunity of trying their luck under different and more propitious circumstances, and judging by the usual course of the stock market, the chances are that those who judiciously invest at such times as these will be in a favorable position to await the next turn of the wheel.—Boston Advertiser.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, November 8, 1866.

Business since our last has presented but few changes worthy of notice. Dealers, as a general thing, were disposed to confine their purchases to lots to supply their immediate wants, prices for most descriptions were unchanged. Produce—Since the movement in grain, the receipts have increased, but not in sufficient quantities to produce any effect on the market; prices were about the same. Flour—Firmness continues to rule the market. The receipts yesterday were only 517 barrels, for the past two days were only 1567 barrels. This is less than the amount required to supply the daily wants of the local trade; prices were in favor of holders. Apples—Receipts 1117 barrels. The market was dull under large supplies. Prices were irregular—tending downwards. Cheese—The receipts fell off to 25 boxes; this fact will strengthen the market. Corn—Firm and scarce, receipts 4 car loads and 79 sacks. Barley—Receipts 1 car load and 1342 sacks. Brewers and maltsters are receiving large supplies. The stock on hand is not large. Oats—Receipts 2 car loads and 238 sacks; market very firm at full rates. Wheat—Receipts 7 car loads and 201 sacks, holders firm at the late advance. Rye—Receipts 65 sacks. This article appears to be neglected, there being but little demand; prices however have undergone no change. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

ASHES—The market was very firm with a good demand for the various descriptions. We note the following sales: Pearls, 25 tons, at 14c; soda ash, sales 60 tons, common, at 6@6½c; refined, sales 9 tons, at 6½c.

LEAD—Market steady. Sales 500 pigs at 11¼a11½c.

CRANBERRIES—The demand was fair and sales were regular; 10 bbls cultivated, at $20 00, and 8 bbls common, at $15 00.

LIME—Sales of 100 bbls from store, at $2 00 per bbl.

CHEESE—Market steady with a good demand. Sales 20 boxes Hamburg at 18c; 20 boxes Western Reserve at 16c, and 4 boxes Young America at 20c. 30 boxes Goshen at 20@21c.

CEMENT—In moderate demand. Sales 80 bbls at $2 25 per bbl.

HOMINY—Sales 7 barrels to the trade at $7 00 per bbl.

BUTTER—The market has undergone no change. We note sales of roll to the extent of 28 packages at 28c 30@32c, as per quality.

EGGS—Firm, but unchanged. Sales 16 barrels, in lots, at 30c.

GROCERIES—The market was firm, but prices have undergone no change. A good business was transacted at the following prices: Coffee—Rio, fair at 26½c; good, 28c; prime, 29c; choice, 30c. Sugars—Cuba, 12¾@13½c; Porto Rico, 13½@15c. Molasses—Porto Rico, 75@85c. Standard hard sugars, 17¼@17½c; A coffee, 16½c; B do, 16@16¼; extra C, 15½c. The market contains a good supply of the various descriptions.

SORGHUM—We note small sales of new at 73@75c per gallon.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—The market contains a fair supply; sales 4 tons, in bulk $4 50 per cwt.

APPLES—The market was dull under large receipts; yesterday's reached 1,117 barrels; we note sales to the extent of 250 bbls, in lots, at $2 50, 3 00@3 50 per bbl.

LARD—Dull; sales 6 packages, at 16c.

HICKORY NUTS—Sales 30 bbls shellbarks at $5 00 per barrel.

GRAPES—Sales 20 bus, at 15c per lb.

POTATOES—Are in good supply; market heavy; sales 40 bbls. Peach Blows, $2 50@3 00; Prince Alberts, $2 00 per bbl; sales 20 bbls; Jerry Sweet, $4 00 per bbl.

HAY—Market firm; sales 10 tons; baled on wharf, $24 00 per ton; sales at scales at $25 00 per ton.

FLOUR—The market was very firm with a good demand for jobbing purposes, the advantages of the market being on the side of holders; yesterday's receipts were 517 barrels; among the sales was Winter Wheat Extra at $14 00@14 25; Fancy Spring at $13 00@13 25; Bartlett's sold at $12 75@13 00.

GRAIN—The market seems very firm, the supply falling short of the demand. Wheat scarce; Spring held at $2 65@2 70; Winter $2 90@3 00. Oats scarce; sales from first hands at 55c; store, 60c. Corn scarce; held at $1 08@1 10. Barley—large receipts and prices unchanged.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, New York, November 7.—Flour quiet; No. 1 spring $12 50, amber winter $13 50a14 00, do white winter $14 50a15 50. Wheat 12,500; No. 2 Milwaukee spring $2 36, closing inactive, with more sellers than buyers. Corn 50,000 bushels; $1 19a1 20, chiefly at outside prices, closing very quiet and more sellers than buyers. Oats—Chicago closed at 62a63c. Barley 5,200 bushels; Canada $1 12. Rye and peas quiet. Pork $32 00@32 50 retail. Lard 15a16c. Whisky $2 38. Canal freights to New York—Wheat 15c; corn 15c.

FAMILY MARKET.

LIVING EXPENSES IN PITTSBURGH.

CAREFULLY REVISED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

OFFICE OF THE COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, November 7, 1866.

There are but few changes to note in the prices of articles enumerated in the schedule given below. There is a great supply of Butter offered for sale, but prices rule high. Quite a number of farmers, this morning, in the Diamond market, disposed of a large portion of their offerings at 55 cents. The ruling price, however, for print is from 40 to 50 cents, and prime roll 35 cents. Eggs are in better supply and a trifle lower. The Fresh Fish market is liberally supplied with catchings from the Lake, and our own rivers are beginning to be represented in the way of cat, perch, salmon and suckers, in quite an acceptable manner to our citizens, who have for so long a time put up with the Lake offerings. Flour keeps creeping up slowly. We now quote Pearl Mill brands, of 49 lb sacks, at $3 70. The market is well supplied with Green Apples at moderate prices, compared with many other things. Groceries have not changed in price for a long time. The stands of our butchers are liberally supplied with Fresh Meats of a quality equal to any other market in the country, and as cheap, if not cheaper. Poultry is coming in more abundantly; Turkeys have declined a trifle under heavier receipts. Since the cold weather has come on, we notice Game hanging out for sale in many places. Wild Ducks are offered in pretty good supply, but Pheasants, Squirrels and Quails are rather scarce. A few Rabbits, and a chance cut of Venison, are occasionally seen. The Vegetable market is still well supplied. Potatoes are firmer and not offered in such quantities as they were a few weeks ago. We quote the retail price of choice articles as follows:

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
THURSDAY, November 8, 1866.

Business in the oil way exhibited a slight falling off in the demand. The sales were not so large. Prices however, were fairly maintained. The rates were the same as the day previous. Bulk 11@11½c; barrels included, 16@16½c. The sales were 3,150 bbls, part to arrive. The receipts were liberal, amounting to 11,728 bbls. The sales were as follows: 350 bbls, crude, 11½c; 800 bbls do, 11c, and 2000 bbls, deliverable the first rise 11c. Most of the refiners have a fair supply on hand, sufficient at least to last for some time.

REFINED OIL—The market was not so firm. Sales could not be effected at rates that were current some days since. Refiners, however, do not seem very anxious. The only transaction that came under our notice was 500 bbls bonded, to be delivered the last of November in Baltimore, at 35c. The asking rates on the spot, free on cars, were 30@30½c.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CINCINNATI.

The receipts of cattle during the week, ending Monday evening, were 1,120 head. On Thursday there were about 400 head in the market; selling was slow, and closed with nearly 200 head left unsold. The market remained at about the same quotations as the week previous. On Monday, this week, the market opened with upwards of 600 fresh cattle, and about 100 head that were left over from Thursday. Early in the morning the market was dull, but toward noon it became more brisk and closed with near 200 head unsold. Prices declined about 25c. The butchers bought most of the cattle; a few sold to feeders, and about 80 head taken by a packer of this city. The quality on sale to-day, with the exception of a very few were of a low grade. We quote: Common, $3 75a4 25; fair, $4 75a5 00; good, $5 00a5 50, and extra $5 50a6 00.

Hogs—Receipts during the week were 3,800 head. The market in the fore part of the week was good, but in the latter part, owing to the large receipts and unfavorable weather, the market became dull, and prices declined 10a15c. On Monday the market opened with near 2,000 head in the pens. About 1,000 head were left unsold. Prices ranging from $7 75a8 for light, and $8 25 for heavy. They are commencing to arrive freely from Kentucky, but most of the receipts, so far, have been chiefly contract hogs. In regard to the future, there is still an unsettled feeling, and buyers and sellers being so far apart in their views as to check operations.

COVINGTON, KY.

The cattle market has been very brisk during the past week, with receipts of 1,536 head, of which 580 head were shipped to New York. Prices since our last report have ruled about as follows: Shipping cattle, $7a7 25 ₱ 100 lbs; first quality of butcher stuff, $6 25a6 50; second quality do, $5 25a5 50; third quality do, $4a4 50.

Hogs—The demand during the past week has been good, and sales were generally made on arrival until Saturday, when buyers drew off and the market became quite dull. No sales of consequence have been made since Friday, and at the close of our report there were 900 head in the pens. The weather to-day, however, is quite favorable, and it is probable that the market will open to-morrow with more briskness. In regard to prices, we have no very material change to note, the ruling figures during the week being $7 25a8 50 per 100 pounds gross, according to quality. The total receipts for the week foot up 3,762 head. Slaughtering has been progressing very steadily at this point. The number killed since our last report is 1,950 head.

Cincinnati Markets.

November 6.—Coal—There has been no change in the market since our last. The demand has been fair at 9a10c for Ohio river, and 12a13c for Youghiogheny afloat. The rates at retail are 14a16c for Ohio river, and 17a18c for Youghiogheny. A portion of what was cleared from Pittsburgh has already arrived.

Grease—The market has been quite dull, and prices are, to a great extent, nominal. We quote brown at 10a10½c; yellow at 10¾a11c, and white at 12a13c.

Hemp—We have no important change to notice in the market. The demand is only moderate, but there is no pressure to sell, stocks being light and prices are maintained. We quote Missouri at $285a300 per ton for fair to prime undressed, and $365a375 for dressed. No Kentucky in market.

Provisions—The market is in an unsettled condition, and prices are so irregular that we find it difficult to give quotations. The stock of last season's packing is light, and holders are still asking $31 50a31 75, at which small jobbing sales are being made. The demand is limited, and sales could not be effected to any extent, except at a material decline. New Mess is offered at $27 50 on the spot, but there is no demand for it, as it will not do to ship South. Green Meats are dull. Shoulders are quoted at 8½c, and Sides at 12c. Some sales of Hams were made at 14½a15c, the latter for light averages. Bulk Meats dull and prices nominal. They could have been bought at 13¼a11c, packed. Bacon Shoulders held at 15½c, and Rib Sides can be had at 16c. Clear Sides are offered at 17½c. Prime City Lard could have been sold at 13½c for last season's rendering, but ¼c, and in some cases ½c higher was asked. New, in kegs is now held at 15½c. No demand for it in tierces. It is quoted nominally same as old.

Iron—The demand for hot blast pig is less active, but it is sufficient to take about all that is offered, and full prices are realized. We quote mill iron at $48 per ton and No. 1 at $50a52. Cold blast is in moderate request at $55a60 per ton for Missouri, and $65a70 for car wheel. Some Missouri blooms have been received and sold at $110a120 per ton. Bar iron is in fair demand at 5¼a6c per lb for common and charcoal. Horse shoes are in good request at 8¼a8½c, and mule shoes at 9¼a9½c per lb for Shoenberger's extra.

Oils—The market for Linseed has been quite dull, and prices have further declined to $1 48 in lots, and $1 50 in the jobbing way. Lard oil has been dull, and prices are, to a great extent, nominal. Summer made can be bought at $1 35a1 40 for extra, and $1 30a1 35 for lower grades. Petroleum has been steady at 55a58c for refined, duty paid.

Tallow—The market closes firm at 11c for the best city rendered.

Tobacco—The market was steady, and prices have not undergone any change since our last. The offerings are chiefly of the poorer qualities and the market for such is dull. The few lots of the finer grades of leaf offering command full prices. Manufactured is unchanged.

Whisky—There has been an improved demand for bonded at 34c. Free is generally held at $2 34, but sales are being made at $2 33.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 147.

NEW YORK, November 7, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET.

There is a fair demand for money, and a general disposition on the part of money lenders to raise the rate on the loans to 6 per cent, though business to-day was at 5a6 per cent; but the supply continues ample, and there is no lack of capital. The discount market is firmer, and prime paper passes at 6a7 per cent.

THE GOLD MARKET

was weaker towards the close, and fell off to 147.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

The market for foreign exchange is dull, and prime bankers' bills are held at 109½a109¾, but there are no buyers over 109¼a109⅜. The supply of cotton bills is steadily increasing.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Were quiet and steady this afternoon at our quotations: Registered '81, 111⅞a111⅝; Coupons, '81, 110⅞a111⅛; do coupons '64, 107¾a107⅞; do do 65, 107⅝a107⅞; 10-40 registered 100⅝a100⅞; 10-40 coupons, 100¼a100⅜; August 7-30's, 107¾a108; June 7-30's, 106a106¼; July do, 110⅝a110⅞; August do, 110⅝a110⅞; October do, 114¾a015⅛; December do, 113⅞a114⅛; May do, 112⅝a112⅞; August do, 110⅞a111; September, 110⅝a110⅞; October, 109⅞a110.

THE COAL SHARES.

There has been active business in Cumberland at 70a71, and in Wilkesbarre at 72½a74. The upward movement in Wilkesbarre and the increased demand for the stock is due to the very general reports that the company have concluded positive arrangements with the Erie road, which gives it facilities for transportation equal to the most favored companies.

STOCKS.

There was a pressure to sell stocks at the last open board, and a general decline took place. After the call there was a firmer feeling and a rally from the lowest point.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Money more active at 5a6 per cent. Sterling dull at 109¼a109½. Gold easier, opening at 148 and closing at 147⅜. Government stocks firm. Freights to Liverpool quiet. Stocks lower: Northwestern, 47⅞; do preferred, 79⅞; Toledo, 120; Rock Island, 110⅝; Alton and Terre Haute, preferred, 76; Chicago and Alton, 111; Fort Wayne, 109⅝; Toledo, Wabash and Western, 52½; Milwaukee and St. Paul, 61½; do preferred, 74½; Western Union Telegraph, 51¼; New York Central, 119⅝; Erie, 82¾; do preferred, 85⅝; 5-20 coupons, '62, 110⅛; do new series, '65 110; do coupons, '64, 107⅜; 10-40s, registered, 100⅜; Treasury 7-30s, 106; Missouri 6s, 90½; Ohio and Mississippi certificates, 31.

The Commercial's money article says: The stock market shows a general improvement after the dullness attending the elections. The transactions in railroad were not large, but prices were generally firm, the chief exception being in the case of New York Central, which fell off 1½. The advance of 1 per cent. in the case of interest has had no effect upon the spirit of speculation. The money market continues easy at 5 per cent. for demand loans on stock collaterals, and 4 per cent on Governments. There is less demand from [illegible] Governments are firm, the 5-20s being stiffer. Seven-thirties are quiet. Railroad shares are irregular. Early in the session there was a perturbed, everish feeling, which towards the close gave place to an activity which caused some improvement in quotations. After the regular board the quotations were: New York Central, 120⅜; Erie, 82½; Hudson, 123; Reading, 116⅜; Michigan Southern, 92⅜; Illinois Central, 125; Pittsburgh, 92⅝; North Western, 55⅝; North Western preferred, 79⅜; Toledo, 120; Rock Island, 110⅜; Fort Wayne, 109⅝.

At the four o'clock open board the following were the principal sales: Cumberland coal, 70⅜; Quicksilver, 32; Western Union Telegraph 51⅜; Mariposa preferred, 30; New York Central 119; Erie, 82; do preferred, 86; Michigan Southern, 91⅜; Illinois Central, 124⅜; Pittsburgh, 92⅝; Toledo 119⅜; Rock Island, 110; Northwestern, 57⅜; do preferred, 79; Fort Wayne, 109; Milwaukee and St. Paul, preferred, 61.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Cotton dull and scarcely so firm at 38a39c for Middling Uplands. Flour dull and common grades 10a20c lower; $11 25a12 00 for sound common extra State; $12 00a13 00 for extra round hoop Ohio, and $13 10a14 75 for trade brands—market closing heavy for common grades. Whisky in moderate demand; bonded at 43c. Wheat dull and 1a2c lower; $2 38a2 43 for No. 2 Chicago and Milwaukee. Barley in fair request for export and home use, but without decided change in prices: $1 06a1 10 for Canada West, in bond; $1 25 do, free; $1 12a1 12 for 2 rowed State; $1 13 for Bay Quinte. Receipts of Corn [illegible] market irregular and unsettled, [illegible] higher and closing with advance lost; $1 [illegible] for shipping mixed western, afloat and in store, closing at $1 28a1 [illegible] for western yellow. Oats opened 1a2c better, but closed with the advance partly lost; 71a73c for Chicago and Milwaukee. Wool dull and heavy; [illegible] for domestic fleece; [illegible] for spring pulled; [illegible] for extra pulled; [illegible] for Texas, and 50 bales Mestiza at 31½c, currency. Coal quiet at about previous prices. Leather—Hemlock sole, 33a36c for Buenos Ayres light and middle weight, 34a35½c; [illegible] for heavy do; [illegible] for California light weights; [illegible] for middle do, and 35a37c for heavy do. Rice is dull. Coffee dull. Sugar quiet; Cuba, 10½a11c. Molasses quiet. Petroleum easier; 21a22c for crude, and 37a38c for refined in bond. Also 1,500 bbls refined in bond, for December, buyers option, 34⅝a35c. Pork dull and heavy; $33 00a33 25 regular and cash, for new mess, closing at $33 12½ cash, and $23 25a23 75 for prime. Beef quiet; $12 50a18 50 for new plain mess, and $18 50a23 00 for extra mess. Beef hams heavy at 33a36c. Bacon dull and heavy. Cut meats unchanged; 14a14½c for shoulders; 16a18c for hams. Dressed hogs quiet; 11¼a11¾c for western. Lard quiet but firm for prime at 14a15½c. Butter steady at 30a35c for Ohio; [illegible] for state.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The dry goods market for the past three days has been unusually depressed and quiet. The market for print cloths is dull from the lower price of prints, and there have been but few transactions the past three days. The market for prints has been quiet, but there are no very large stocks of the leading styles in market. These goods are very steady in price, and moderately active for export. In the market for ticks, stripes and heavy goods generally of this class, there have been some slight concessions in prices, and it is probable that prices will be fixed at those of September. There is only a light trade but goods are in good styles and a renewed confidence is felt on the part of holders. The market for wool is still depressed.

Jobbers' prices: Brown Sheeting—Indian Head, 22½c; Booth O, 20c; do S, 22½c. Bleached Shirtings—Bates, 25c; do B, B, 25c; Blackstone, 25c. Prints—Garner & Co, 20c; Hamilton, 19½c; Richmond 19c; Allen, 18½c. Brown Drills—Amoskeag 25c; Winthrop, 23c. Corset Jeans—Naumkeag, 25c; Laconia, 21c; Bates, 15c.

Oswego Market.

OSWEGO, November 7.—Flour unchanged; sales 1300 bbls at $12 50 for No. 1 spring; $14 00 for red winter; $15 for white, and $15 75a16 for double extra. Wheat quiet; no sales. Corn held at $1 20 for western yellow. Barley without material change, but dull; sales 5,500 bush Bay Quinte at $1 18. Rye quiet; sales 300 bush Canada on private terms. Canal freights steady; to New York, flour 60c, wheat 14c, corn and barley 12c, rye 11c; to Albany, wheat 14c, corn and barley 10c, rye 11c. Lake imports—75,000 bush wheat, 7,000 bush corn, 187 bushels barley, 14,000 bush rye, 15,000 bush oats, 11,000 bush peas. Canal Exports—3,675 bbls flour, 21,000 bushels wheat, 20,600 bush barley, 8,000 bush rye, 7,200 bush peas.

Philadelphia Market.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7.—Flour dull and unchanged at $13 00a13 50. Wheat less active and less firm; white $3 40; red $3 25. Corn scarce; yellow $1 27a1 30. Oats firm at 65c. Provisions have a declining tendency; Mess Pork $31. Lard dull at 15½c. Whisky steady at $2 44. Petroleum unchanged. Seeds in demand. Coffee in demand.

Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, November 7.—Flour dull and declined 25c. Wheat declined 4c; sales at $2 15 for No. 1. Oats firm at 48c. Corn declined 3c; sales at $1. Receipts—3,600 bbls flour, 1,000 bushels wheat. Shipments—9,000 bbls flour, 80,000 bushels wheat.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, November 7.—Flour quiet. Wheat—white winter 1c better; amber 1c lower; spring 2c lower; sales white Michigan at $2 28; amber at $2 86; No. 1 spring at $2 35. Corn dull, and 2a3c lower, at $1 03a1 06 for No. 1 mixed. Oats 2c lower, at 52c. Lake freights—8c on corn to Buffalo.

River and Oil at Oil City.

[Per Merchants and National Telegraph Line.]
Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

OIL CITY, November 7, 1866.

Oil market unchanged. River twenty-one inches. Weather clear and pleasant.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated four feet eight inches and about a stand. The weather was very pleasant.

THE J. L. Graham will load after the Camelia for Nashville.

THE Portsmouth packet Robert Moore will be found at the landing this morning. She will return to that port on Friday, at 4 P. M.

THE fleet packet Quickstep, Captain Barr, is due from Cincinnati. She will return to that port on Friday at noon.

THE favorite packet Camelia, Captain Lytle, is announced for Clarksville and Nashville. She will have dispatch.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Bayard, Captain Moore. She leaves at noon, and is well found in every respect.

THE fine packet Emma Graham is offered for sale. She is in first rate condition, and will be sold at a low figure. The Graham has been one of the most successful boats ever built.

THE new steamer Flicker, is announced for Memphis and New Orleans on Saturday. This boat is in charge of Captain Wm. Taylor, an experienced and attentive officer. She will go through, certain.

THE fine packet New State, Captain Harlin, leaves this day for Cincinnati, positively. This boat is one of the best of her class afloat, and Captain Harlin is one of the most gentlemanly officers that comes to this port.

THE fine steamer Silver Cloud No. 2, Captain Martin, leaves for Cairo and St. Louis on Saturday, positively. This boat has superior accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Our old friend Captain C. Matthews will be found in the office.

THE splendid passenger packet "Kate Putnam" Captain Lightner, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis this day. This boat is one of the best of her class afloat. Captain Lightner is a great favorite with the passengers and shippers—while Mr. Young will see that passengers have the best of attention.

HO FOR THE SUNNY SOUTH.—The first class passenger packet Armenia, Capt. McCallam, is announced for Memphis and New Orleans this day. For speed, accommodations and attentive officers, this boat has no superior. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers. Our friend Mc., Jr., will see that passengers have the best of attention.

MAGNIFICENT.—The hull of the fine steamer the Great Republic, arrived at our landing yesterday. We heard disinterested persons pronounce her the finest piece of mechanism that was ever designed on the western waters. The word at the head of this notice belongs to this job. Her model is faultless. She was visited yesterday by hundreds. There was but one opinion—wait until she is finished, you will see sights.

Cincinnati.

November 6.—We condense the following from the Enquirer:

The weather yesterday was clear and cold, with heavy frost in the morning. The thermometer at 2 o'clock P. M. stood forty-eight degrees in the shade.

The river at this point had risen since our last report six feet six inches, but at six o'clock last evening it was about stationary, with 22 feet water in the channel.

No late news from the Cumberland of a favorable character.

Business on the landing yesterday was from "fair to middling," owing to its being blue Monday, which is always considered the dullest day in the week.

The steamer Kenton, from St. Louis, came in with a good trip of freight, including over 2,600 sacks of grain.

The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, of the 2d inst., says:

THE NEW MUNNERLYN.—Captain McAllister's new boat was yesterday taken successfully through the rocky and shoaly part of the river between her place of reconstruction and the wharf. The passage was effected without the use of steam. At one time she was in a position from which extrication was somewhat difficult. One of the ropes breaking, she was carried by the current broadside against one of the stone piers of the bridge, and thence drifted against the ledge of rocks just below the bridge. It required perseverance and skillful effort to warp her round to her proper direction and give her a start through the narrow channel in that part of the river. But it was accomplished at last, and the boat was taken without injury into a part of the river in which steamers are "at home."

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says:

The Kate Robinson, from Pittsburgh, was among the arrivals, and the Quickstep, for Pittsburgh, departed.

The steamer Fleetwood, on her last upward trip, made the run to Gallipolis in twenty-one hours.

The commanders of our New Orleans packets yesterday agreed to load in turn, and leave promptly as advertised. This arrangement will facilitate shipments, as well as work to the interest of boats engaged in the trade.

EVANSVILLE, IND., November 5.—Weather changeable and cloudy with rain, and mild; thunder Saturday night; yesterday clear, and last night cloudy and cold, to-day clear and pleasant. The river has risen fifteen inches during the last forty-eight hours. Port list: Sunday—Stonewall, New Orleans to Louisville; Cuba, Cincinnati to New Orleans; Bermuda, Memphis to Louisville. Monday—P. W. Strader, Louisville to New Orleans; Robert Burns, Cincinnati to Memphis; America, Pittsburgh to New Orleans; Sam. J. Hale, Cincinnati to Memphis; Glasgow, St. Louis to Cincinnati; Darling, Memphis to Cincinnati; Minnie, Pittsburgh to St. Louis; Silver Spray, Cincinnati to New Orleans. All the boats had excellent trips. The Stonewall discharged 625 bales cotton taken from the Die Vernon. Business is good. The packets have good trips.
